SELECT SITE FOR HOSPITAL

State Board of Health Recommends Land in Pawtucketville
—Hope Estate Also Favored

After years of waiting, discussion, fidgeting, quarrelling and site hunting it looks now as if Lowell would have a contagious hospital. Two-thirds of a commission known as the contagious hospital commission resigned several months ago because of the inability of its members to agree upon a site and,
as a matter of course, the hospital question was turned over to the municipal council. Mayor O'Donnell used every endeavor to have a site selected but without avail. There were many sites offered and the mayor expressed his preference, but said he would be willing to vote for any site favored by a majority of the council.

vote of October 21st. "That the state board of health be requested to send a representative to examine the various proposed contagious hospital sites and make a report as to what site or sites, in his judgment, is best adapted for the erection of a building for the care of tuberculosis," the location of the several proposed sites was obtained from the mayor and each was carefully examined by a committee of the board.

Of the eight sites proposed, two are, in the opinion of the board,
very well adapted for the purpose.
One in Chelmsford street, designated as the Hope estate, is about 5500 feet from city hall. It includes about six acres and rises to a site for buildings about 30 feet above water. It overlooks all neighboring buildings with free air from distance in all directions.
The high ground with a southerly slope is well situated for perambulation. There is a vacant land a little higher to the northeast.
Existing houses are much lower and 200 or 300 feet from the building site. Street cars are on adjoining street fifty feet below, and steam railroad is 1700 feet distant.

The other site is on the northwest side of Seventh avenue, Paw-tucketville, between Mount Hope and Mount Grove streets, prolonged.
It contains about five acres, being about 700 feet from city hall with about 1000 feet east and 1000 feet west. There is a water level of about 65 feet above water in the river above the dam, with a gentle southerly slope and a steep slope to the northeast at one end. The surface is well except to the northwest where an occupied land rises perhaps 15 feet higher.

With the addition of two acres of this higher land, the board is of the opinion that this site is the best adapted for a tuberculosis hospital among those proposed.
Without this addition, the Hope estate on Chelmsford street is preferred.

By order of the board,
(Signed)
Mark W. Richardson, M. D., Secretary.

FUGITIVE IN COURT 900 ANSWER

Judge Aldrich of Federal Court Issues
Order But New Arrest Was Delayed
Pending Decision on Technicalities

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 18.—Judge Edgar Aldrich in the federal court today ordered the rearrest of Harry K.
Thaw on the strength of the extradition warrant issued recently by governor Felker. This was done to clear the record but counsel immediately engaged in an argument over the customary of the prisoner and the new arrest was delayed pending the decision of the court on certain technicalities.
The new arrest will make no difference in the United States, as Thaw has enjoyed since his arrest at Concord several weeks ago, as a fugitive from justice.

New York, insane asylum and the prisoner's status had to be changed so that the courts could deal with his case without undue complications.

After a conference between counsel and the court it was agreed that Thaw be discharged as a fugitive and re-arrested on the extradition warrant and the court so ordered. Judge Aldrich directed that counsel perfect their pleadings and that briefs be filed following which he would fix a date for final arguments on the habeas corpus proceedings.

"Apart from the sentimental features of this case," Judge Aldrich said, "important principles are involved which require the fullest attention on my part before rendering my decision."

"Just before luncheon adjournment, counsel became involved in a dispute over the custody of the prisoner and the proceedings were suspended until 3 p. m. In the meantime counsel will put their agreement in writing so that there may be no misunderstanding.

The dispute postponed the re-arrest of the fugitive until after the reconvening of the court this afternoon.

Thaw was in court, accompanied by his mother, and in custody of United States Marshal Nute and Sheriff Drew of Coos county. He was represented by former Governor William A. Stone of Pennsylvania, George M. Morris and Merrill Shurtliff of Lancaster and William Chase, DeWitt Howe and Joseph A. Banigan of Concord.

Mr. Jerome, Franklin Kennedy, deputy attorney general and Bernard Jacobs of Lancaster appeared for the state of New York.

John Farrell Seeks Separation
From Wife Pending Proof of Former Husband's Death

A story of unusual interest was unfolded at the jury waived session of civil superior court this morning when Judge Pratt presiding. John Farrell, formerly of Braintree, petitioned to have annulled his marriage with Josephine Farrell on the grounds that at the time of their marriage his wife's second husband was not known to be dead.
It was the third marriage for both parties and the last came about as the result of an advertisement in a Boston newspaper, in which Mr. Farrell made known the fact that he was seeking a wife. It is said that no less than 300 women begged his companionship for life in answer to his request for "bids" for a partner and after a careful study he picked Mrs. Josephine Higgins, a Cambridge widow.

The couple then came to Braintree to settle down and Mr. Farrell prepared a neat little cottage, started a poultry farm and worked in the garden. John claimed that the place was so cozy that

CLOSING OF TRADERS BANK

N. Y. Brokers Indicted With Metcalf in Court at Providence

Entered Pleas of Not Guilty and Held in $20,000 Each

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 18.—
Henry Dekay, James F. Allen and Orion R. Farrer, the New York brokers and promoters indicted by the federal grand jury in connection with the alleged defalcation by Edward P.
Metcalf, its former president, of the defunct Atlantic National bank's funds, entered pleas of not guilty to the several charges in indictments in the United States district court today.
They were released on bonds of $20,000 each. Metcalf and three New York men will be placed on trial before the federal court here on March 10 next.
The three defendants who pleaded today were given the privilege of changing their pleas within ten days. John W. Dekay, a brother of Henry Dekay is also under indictment but has not yet been apprehended.

The Dekay brothers, Allen and Farrer were all indicted on October 9 on charges of aiding Metcalf in the alleged misappropriation of more than $200,000 of the bank's funds. On Oct.
16 three more indictments were returned, charging Metcalf, Farrer and Allen with conspiracy to defraud the bank. One of the principal indictments charges Metcalf with having given a check for $140,000 to the Traders National bank of Lowell, Mass., and depositing alleged worthless notes for this amount in the Atlantic bank to cover the check when Farrer, Allen and Metcalf were attempting to obtain control of the Traders National bank and which recently closed its doors. The Atlantic National bank suspended last April and has since paid dividends aggregating 50 per cent to its depositors.

A motion to allow Metcalf to examine certain books and records of the bank was presented by his counsel, P. H. Quinn. It was set down for a hearing on December 1.

Successful candidates will be. Strenuous work is being done by friends of the candidates for mayor, commissioner and school committeeman, and the result of the arduous campaign will be that the precinct officers will have their hands full in talking up the large vote this evening, although the ballot will be a simple one to count.

The women are also much interested in the school committee contest, and many gathered at the polls several minutes before the opening of the polling booths. In precinct three of ward six, the first woman to cast her vote

N. Y. CENTRAL HEAD RESIGNS

W. C. Brown, Who Rose From Telegraph Boy to President, Retires

Has Been in Railroad Service 44 Years—Hearing Failing

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—William C.
Brown, who rose from telegraph operator to the presidency of the New York Central lines, resigned today.
The directorate of the four railroad companies comprising the New York Central system accepted his resignation. It will become effective New Year's day. A. H. Smith, senior vice president of the line, is reported to succeed him. Mr. Brown is 60 years of age and has been in the railroad service for more than 44 years.
He has been president of the New York Central for the past five years. Prior to that he was for two years senior vice president of the system and for five years in charge of the operation and maintenance. As president of the lines he was commander-in-chief of an army of 180,000 employees. His letter of resignation was addressed to the directors of the four companies which comprise the system: The New York Central & Hudson River R. R. Co., the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern R.
R. Co., the Michigan Central R. R. Co.
& the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis R. R. Co. The letter reads as follows:

"I have for two years contemplated asking to be relieved of the very exacting duties and responsibilities of the chief executive of the New York Central lines. I have been in railroad service continuously for more than 44 years, twelve years of this service with the New York, five years in charge of the operation and maintenance of the property; two years as senior vice president and five years as president and I feel that I have earned that freedom which can only be secured by retiring from active service.

"In addition to my desire to be relieved of the burden and responsibility of my position I am admonished by my failing hearing that I cannot without serious embarrassment continue to perform the duties of the position effectively."

Coal Teamster Who Sold Employer's Coal Fined in Court

The two cases which developed from the larceny of coal from the E. A.
Wilson Coal Company came up for trial in the local police court this morning before Judge Enright. The case of John J. Armstrong, charged with the larceny of three hundred pounds of coal, was first disposed of by the defendant pleading guilty to the charge.

Alexander Perkins, a resident of Lowell, was charged with receiving stolen property and through his attorney, A. S. Goldman, Esq., pleaded not guilty to the charge. Armstrong's sentence was reserved until the case of Perkins was disposed of.
Armstrong was the principal witness against Perkins. The witness admitted that the sale of the coal which was given him at the yard to deliver was to sell several bags from each load and sell them cheap enough so that the buyer would save a substantial sum from buying of him.

The witness testified that Perkins bought the coal from him. Lawyer Goldman asked him if he was drinking on the day, November 8, that he sold the defendant the coal and he said that he was.

Officer Shapiro, who was the one who first discovered the fact that coal was being stolen from the company in this manner, took the stand and testified to what he saw on the day when the police alleged that the defendant bought the coal.

The officer was standing about 20 feet away from Armstrong when the latter stopped his team and carried up three bags of nut coal to the house of the defendant. Perkins was out back in the barn and his wife did not arrive until Armstrong had delivered two of the bags. The prosecution argued from this that a previous arrangement must have been made between Armstrong and Perkins or the

BILLERICA LIBEL SUIT

More Testimony for the Defense
—Mr. Clark Again on the Stand Today

The trial of the libel suit of Twombley vs. Clark was resumed at the opening of superior court this morning with Mr. Clark, the defendant, again on the stand.

The witness was questioned by his counsel relative to his conversations with Mr. Twombly before the time that the alleged libelous statement was sent out. Mr. Wilson then took the witness.

He said at no time had he any malice against Mr. Twombly and never intended to do Mr. Twombly any injury, but intended to prevent his election to highway surveyor in 1909. Wilson said that he believed it his duty to circulate those statements about the plaintiff.

He testified that at one time Mr.
Twombly was a member of the water board but he, Mr. Clark, did not question Mr. Twombly's action in certain matters then.

"Do you know when Mr. Twombly was repairing the house that has been described?"

"I don't remember the date."
"When you wrote that letter to Mr. Pratt asking for information did you have in mind this house?"

"I did."

"Did you make any investigation to find out when the house was finished?"

"No, sir."

"Did it make any difference to you how old these stories were?"

"No, it did not."

"What efforts did you make to find if this matter had been investigated?"

"I did not take any particular steps as I intended to investigate it myself."

"Were you willing to do him the injury if he was guilty?"

"If you found Mr. Twombly guilty were you willing to do what you thought was your duty?"

"I was."
"Did you not think that the opinion of the public was enough for this matter?"

PRIMARY ELECTION ON

Have you voted?
The polls close at 8 o'clock tonight and this, it is said, lest you forget. It was stated in a morning paper yesterday that the polls would close at 5 o'clock, but that was a misstatement.
The polls will close at 8 o'clock.

The weather today was ideal for an election day. Old timers were heard to say that they had never seen a fairer election day and it was prophesied on all sides that the vote would be unusually large for a preliminary election. Old men and sick men went to the polls today, for there was nothing to prevent them. There were automobiles and carriages galore; and

Tour of Polling Booths

A representative of The Sun visited all the voting places of this city this afternoon, starting his round shortly after the opening of the polls, and it was evident at the outset that it would be very difficult to get a line on who the winners will be. In the Republican wards the vote is coming out strong, but in the democratic districts the voters were slow in casting their votes. However it is expected there will be a big rush from 6 to 8 this evening.

The chief contest seems to be between the mayoralty candidates, but at 2 o'clock this afternoon the reports from the different sections of the city were so conflicting that it is im-

BLIND FOR LIFE

A Prominent Haverhill Dentist Victim of His Friend's Joke

HAVERHILL, Nov. 18.—Blinded for life by washing powder thrown into his eyes as a joke, Dr. William A. Keefe, prominent dentist of this city, lies in excruciating agony at the Haverhill hospital.

While visiting friends yesterday afternoon at a bottling establishment, on Water street, Albert J. Haley scooped up a paper bag full of the washing powder and asked the doctor to smell it. As Dr. Keefe did so, Haley squeezed the bag and the powder was thrown over the doctor's face and into his eyes.

Dr. Keefe immediately complained of intense pain and his friends hurriedly prepared bandages and began to bathe his eyes. It was not known at the time that the powder contained 50 per cent. lye, and serious results were not contemplated. Finally, Raymond Ayer, a friend who was at the establishment, took the doctor home, and there his wife again bandaged the eyes.

After fully two hours a doctor was summoned. When he removed the bandages he found one eye completely eaten away and the other probably beyond saving.

Dr. Keefe was rushed then to the city hospital, but it is feared that nothing can be done for him. The police investigated the case, first as a case of burning, then as assault. Mr. Haley, who had been intimate with the doctor for years, is proscribed.

EFFICIENCY IN INDUSTRY

BOSTON, Nov. 18.—The problem in efficiency in industry in the opinion of Prof. Hugo Münsterberg of Harvard is mainly a problem of scientific psychology.

"The mind of the worker," said Prof. Münsterberg in a lecture before the Boston school of social science last night, "is the essential factor in the problem of efficiency. It is not true that the real trouble with modern work is its monotonous psychology shows there are different kinds of minds, some which want to change friends, problems, activities and would like to change wives or husbands. Others prefer stability and sameness. Work must be adjusted to the individual."

ATTACK CALUMET TITLE

Resolution Demanding Congressional Investigation of Michigan Copper Companies by A.F. of L.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 18.—Fiery speeches were made in the American Federation of Labor convention yesterday attacking the Michigan copper mine owners whose employees are on strike. Resolutions demanding a congressional investigation and calling for contributions for the support of the strikers were adopted.

President Samuel Gompers said the convention undoubtedly would adopt a resolution, if it were presented, demanding investigation as to how the Calumet & Hecla company obtained title to its copper land.

Joseph D. Cannon of the Western Federation of Miners described the conditions under which the workers revolted, and declared documentary evidence was available to prove that the Calumet & Hecla company obtained title from the United States government in 1882 valuable mineral land as a grant in aid of a canal, the land never being used for canal purposes, but for the copper it contained.

John H. Walker, president of the Illinois Mine Workers, who has spent months in the Calumet region, said it would be impossible to exaggerate conditions there "which would disgrace the most barbarous country in the world."

Mr. Walker said the miners worked naked in the 8000-foot levels, without ventilation, breathing again the air of their own lungs mixed with the poisonous fumes of the copper.

Says Soldiers Are Drunk

John B. Lennon, treasurer of the federation, described the daily parades of men and women in the copper country. Armed men--militia and detective agency employees--marched along with the paraders on the highway, he said, seeking to provoke them to violence. Soldiers raced their horses across and through the parades, he said.

"After midnight," said Lennon, "I walked through the streets of Calumet, in company with Michigan public officials, and saw young soldiers drunk on the streets with belts on and revolvers in their belts. They were unfit to be soldiers of this or any country. I saw them insult women on the streets, and it was difficult for me, old as I am, to restrain myself from selling soldiers by the throat and throwing them into the streets."

CONGRESSIONAL INVESTIGATION
SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 18.—The feature of this morning's session of the American Federation of Labor was expected to be a resolution presented by Thomas Van Ler, demanding that congress investigate the charges made on the floor of the convention that the Michigan copper companies obtained much of their land by fraud under congressional grants sixty years ago in aid of canals which never were built. In the clashes between the administration and the progressives yesterday, the latter were not much outnumbered on some of the votes but at no time was there any show of utterance between the two elements in the convention and the discussion of the copper strike seemed to draw the delegates together. It is the story that John Mitchell was a candidate for president against Samuel Gompers who was to be offered the post of historian and editor of the official journal was originated for the purpose of benefiting the candidacy of John H. Walter, president of the United Mine Workers of America for the second vice presidency of the federation to succeed John Mitchell, who is retiring voluntarily.

The socialists favored White and to bring the administration forces to terms they put up John Mitchell as a candidate for president. Today it is said that White is not acceptable to the administration forces, their candidate being T. A. Rickert of New York.

How To Stop Falling Hair; Grow New Hair

You, yourself, at home, can mix the best remedy in the world for most hair and scalp troubles. To stop falling hair, destroy dandruff, invigorate the scalp, make new hair grow (even on bald spots), kill all scalp germs, and make your hair soft, shiny and lustrous, get from your druggist and mix the following ingredients: 2 ounces bay rum, 2 ounces lavender de composed, 1/2 drachm menthol crystals, 1 drachm perfume. If you prefer, your druggist will do the mixing for you. This widely known formula is the best thing you can possibly use. It does not leave the hair greasy or oily. It instantly relieves scalp itching, cleanses and cools the scalp, has a very mild, pleasant odor, and is delightful to use. It beautifies the hair wonderfully. It is not a dye and cannot stain or injure the hair or scalp. The above formula was originated some eight or nine years ago by one of the most successful hair and scalp specialists in New York City. Finally the formula came out in one of the leading newspapers everywhere in America and abroad. It is estimated that three to four million people have used it. Very likely some of your own friends are familiar with this formula.

MURDER TRIAL

Government Completes Its Testimony Against Colegio Marchese

BOSTON, Nov. 18.—The government completed its testimony yesterday against Colegio Marchese, on trial in the superior court before Judge Brown and a jury, charged with murder in the first degree in causing the death of Luigi Caraballo.

After the government's last witness,

Upelo Cucco of North Marginal street, had testified that on the night of alleged murder he had finished his work and had started for a cafe. When he reached the corner of Parmenter and Hanover streets he heard Caraballo and Marchese talking in a loud tone.

After Caraballo made a remark about his countrymen Marchese started to go away, with the remark that he was not going to stand anything like that, and that Caraballo then half-pushed him with his hand and started across the street.

Marchese followed him and when Caraballo got to the entrance of the drug store on the corner of Parmenter and Hanover streets Marchese pulled out his gun and fired one shot and a moment later hesitated and then fired two more shots.

For the defense Antonio d'Elisigora and Vincenzo Butti told of seeing Marchese and Caraballo in the cafe and surrounded by their companions, who were quarrelling with each other, and then of the quarrel later outside between Marchese and Caraballo.

This Simple Recipe Quickly Banishes Hairs

Here is a simple and inexpensive recipe or formula which is used with excellent results by many beauty specialists for removing hairy growths on the face, neck or arms. Mix a stiff paste with a little delatone and water and spread on hairy surface for 2 or 3 minutes, then rub off, wash the skin and it will be entirely free from hair or blemish. Care should be exercised to get the delatone in an original package, otherwise it may not be pure.

Bath and Breakfast for Three Cents for Children of Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 18.—A bath and a good breakfast for three cents for improperly nourished children of the open air class at the Durham public school in this city will be provided by the Home and School league. This announcement was made yesterday by the luncheon committee of the league. Soon after the children arrive at school they will be given the bath and then served with breakfast. The menu will be changed each day, one of the breakfasts consisting of creamed fish on toast, milk and bananas.

50,000 MEMBERS

Represented at Conference of Priests for Holy Name Increase

BOSTON, Nov. 18.—"Ninety per cent. of the men of each parish for the Holy Name society," was the slogan of more than 200 priests of the Boston diocese assembled in the conference room of the Cathedral of the Holy Cross in attendance at the annual meeting of the spiritual directors of the Holy Name society yesterday afternoon.

The meeting was called by the Rt. Rev. Mr. M. Splaine, D. D., rector of the cathedral, who some time ago was appointed diocesan director of the Holy Name society by the cardinal. Cardinal O'Connell, who is deeply interested in the welfare of the organization, addressed the priests.

The gathering included pastors and curates of the diocese who are in charge of the local societies. In the diocese at the present time, the society has a membership of more than 50,000 men.

It was the first address of Mr. Splaine to the various parish directors, and he dealt at some length with the society and then introduced a number of propositions for discussion. He urged a closer co-operation between the directors and the members.

He recommended the organizing of parish societies with consultants in charge of hands so that these consultants would be responsible to the spiritual director, and the latter would thus be enabled by a report of abusers to visit any member and learn whether he was ill or what prevented his attendance, thus developing a closer bond between members of the organization.

The society handled a larger volume of work during the past year than it had at any preceding year since 1903. It reports that the cost involved in supervising and maintaining these 50 children amounted to $57,225.77.

LOWELL WOMAN ATTENDS

MRS. GARDNER PEARSON AT WEDDING OF MISS HARLEY, THE NOTED GOLFER

FALL RIVER, Nov. 18.—Miss Katharine Harley, the noted golfer, was married yesterday to A. G. Jackson, a Boston business man. Among the attendants of the bride was Mrs. Gardner Pearson of Lowell. The ushers at the church were Henry I. Bird, Weld Rollins, Walter Brooks, Mr. Humphrey and Hereward Hackett, all of Boston, and John E. Stafford of this city. The bride is known throughout the country in view of her prominence at golf not only being a former woman's golf champion but one of the best known golf players in the United States. The groom is the New England representative of the Bethlehem, Pa., Steel Co. and a graduate of Harvard in the class of 1902. He is a member of the Harvard club of Boston and New York Engineers club, Boston Athletic association, Union Boat club and Oakley Country club. Mr. and Mrs. Jackson will reside at 5 Oils place, Boston.

A very enjoyable surprise party was held on Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Anna Higgins, Rogers street, No. 10, Billerica. The young lady was the recipient of numerous beautiful gifts, among them, being an opal ring and a large bouquet of roses. Her father also presented her a handsome set of furs. Many friends were present from Lowell and the surrounding towns. The presentation speech was made by Mr. James B. Palm.

"I wanted to find out for myself." "Did you go to Officer Conway and ask him to investigate this?" "No." "You talked with Officer Conway, did you not?" "Yes." "And did he give you his opinion as to Mr. Twombly's conduct?" "About the other charges, yes." "Did you consider the matter of calling the officer about this?" "I thought it unnecessary." "You called no one to your assistance when you started to find whether Mr. Twombly was guilty or innocent?" "I did not." Mr. Clark then read his letter to Mr. Pratt asking for information and also Mr. Pratt's letter to him. (Both letters were mentioned yesterday.) Upon receipt of that letter, Mr. Clark said he concluded that Mr. Twombly was guilty. He stated that he never attempted to get evidence to overturn the information contained in the letter from Mr. Pratt.

"Who was present at the meeting in Mr. Talbot's house?" "Witness mentioned several names. Attorney Wilson asked the witness about the identification of several men that were present and Mr. Clark told him their occupations.

"What was your purpose in calling them?"

"Because they were voters of Billerica and interested in town affairs and I wanted to present to them the facts and see what they thought best to do."

"All of the men are under your direction?"

"They were all employed at the mill."

"How many other meetings did you attend for purposes of defeating Mr. Twombly?"

"None that I know of."

"Did you feel that you convinced the men that Twombly was guilty?"

"I think that was the general opinion."

"Who was suggested as a candidate to defeat Mr. Twombly?"

"Mr. B. W. Kearney's name came up."

"Did you say yesterday that that was the first time you supported Mr. Essex?"

"I supported him in 1907."

"The vote at the town meeting put you against Twombly instead of in favor of him, did it not?"

"I did."

The witness then read the finding of the special town meeting called to investigate Mr. Twombly's affair. At that meeting it was voted to discontinue the investigation as it would cause a needless expense to the town and it was believed that the meeting was called on account of personal feeling.

"Did you believe that an investigation by the town was necessary after the state officer's investigation?"

"I did."

"Did you know Mr. Singhi well?"

"As an acquaintance, not intimately."

"Did you see him often?"

"Seldom."

"What is Mr. Singhi's business?"

"He is connected with some lumber concern, I believe."

"Do you come in contact with the voters of the town except in your business?"

"Yes."

"What was the vote in 1907, when Mr. Twombly was elected?"

"Mr. Twombly, 253; Mr. McElligott, 275."

Mr. Clark said that he did not criticize Mr. Twombly's administration in 1906 and 1907 and in 1908 he did not believe he could be elected. He was defeated by three votes. He said that in the spring of 1909, when Mr. Twombly was to be a candidate for public office, he believed it was his duty to take some action. He thought that there was a possibility of Mr. Twombly being elected in 1909 and that every effort should be made to prevent him from entering the contest.

"What did Mr. Twombly say when he went to your office early in the year of 1909?"

"He referred to the meeting and asked me to show him the letters I had received from Mr. Pratt."

"Up to that time had you ever asked Mr. Twombly if those statements were true?"

"No."

"And still you believed him guilty?"

"I did."

"He deny the charges?"

"He did."

"What did you think?"

"I'm sorry to say, I didn't believe it."

"How long did the conversation last?"

"About fifteen minutes."

"When did he come back?"

"In the afternoon."

"Did he ask you to go to Mr. Whitney?"

"I don't remember that he did."

"Mr. Wilson then went over the meetings of Messrs. Twombly and Clark in the latter's office, at which the affidavits were taken about."

"Did Mr. Twombly's election to the water board lessen or increase your feeling toward him?"

"It did not."

"Was it to prevent his election to highway surveyor in 1912 that you published the evidence?"

"Yes, it was."

"Has Mr. Singhi been at your office consulting with you since the special town meeting?"

"No."

"Have you consulted with him?"

"Yes, some time in March, 1909. I learned from him the lumber firm that he mentioned."

"In the bottom of your pamphlet, Mr. Clark, you asked the voters to preserve it. What was your purpose?"

"I didn't want them to throw it in the waste-basket. I wanted them to use it relative to the town meeting."

"Did Mr. Twombly tell you that the publication of these statements would ruin you?"

"I don't remember."

"Did he say they were false?"

"He did."

"And it had no weight upon your mind?"

"No because I had other evidence. I considered more trustworthy."

Mr. George W. Whitney, foreman for the firm of Pratt and Forrest was the next called.

He testified that Mr. Twombly

BANDITS ROB PAYMASTER RULING FOR NEW HAVEN

Armed Men Point Revolvers at Southbridge Official and Force Him to Give up $1000

SOUTHBRIDGE, Nov. 18.—Two bandits held up Robert E. Dwyer, paymaster of the American Optical Company last evening, and with the muzzles of their revolvers shoved into his face took $1000 in pay envelopes he was distributing among the hands of the Lonsdale factory.

One of the men fired a shot at Dwyer, as they started away with the cash. The bullet grazed his head.

The paymaster, nothing daunted by the gun play, started after the pair as they commenced to run.

Then both started firing and when Dwyer halted, ran into the woods surrounding the big factory.

Armed posses of police and citizens are scouring the neighboring woods near the factory in which the bandits disappeared.

Police of surrounding cities and towns have been notified to keep watch, descriptions of the burglars having been furnished.

The hold-up occurred at 5.30 o'clock.

Dwyer had paid off the men of one section of the factory, and was on the bridge between the power house and lens factory, when he was suddenly confronted by two men, one a large man and the other short in stature. The larger of the pair grabbed the tin box in which were the pay envelopes, while the other pushed him toward the woods.

Dwyer, surprised by the sudden assault, had been separated from the cash box before he had grasped the situation. As the men started to run away, the shorter of the two fired his revolver at him from a distance of but a few feet.

Both Open Fire

Undaunted by the bullet which clipped past his face, the paymaster started in pursuit. He followed the fleeing men as far as the rear of the power house. At this point he stopped, when both men turned and opened fire

TALBOT SCHOOL CLOSED

SEVERAL CASES OF DIPHTHERIA AMONG SCHOOL CHILDREN AT NORTH MILLERICA

For the second time within a month the Talbot school at North Milleria has been closed by the board of health of that town in an attempt to prevent a diphtheria epidemic. At the present time there are seven or eight cases in the town and the disease is confined to school children. It is understood that the school will open next Monday and during the next few days all books and desks will be fumigated. About three weeks ago the school was closed for two days, there being two or three children ill at that time. Over 200 children between the ages of five and fifteen are enrolled at the school.

Severe Set Back Sustained by the Opposition to the $67,000,000 Bond Issue

BOSTON, Nov. 18.—A severe set back was sustained by the opposition to the $67,000,000 New Haven bond issue yesterday afternoon when Judge Sheldon of the supreme court decided, subject to reversal by the full bench, that the evidence presented at the public service commission's hearings on the bond issue would not be submitted to the supreme court.

This means that when the full bench considers the legal questions involved in the appeal against the issue, it will have before it only the petition filed by counsel for Morgan G. Bulkeley, appealing from the commission's ruling, the answers thereto and the final report of the majority of the commission.

Counsel for former Governor Bulkeley strenuously opposed this ruling of the court, Attorney James F. Jackson claiming that the evidence which he desired to present could be put in in two days. Attorney-General James A. Swift, who appears on behalf of the commission, also opposed the exclusion of the testimony, while Charles F. Choate, Jr., and General Counsel Edward D. Robbins, for the New Haven, spoke against admitting the whole record.

It was pointed out by counsel for the New Haven that on the commission's side could act on its general knowledge of conditions quite apart from the testimony introduced, the inclusion of the voluminous records of the hearings would necessitate the admission of further evidence explaining it, and even of the Prouty hearings last spring.

Merely Conclusions

On the other hand it is claimed by counsel for the petitioners that the final report of the commission made no definite findings of fact, but stated merely conclusions, partly of law and partly of fact and that the supreme court will not have sufficient facts on which to make a decision.

Judge Sheldon reserved the exceptions of counsel for the commission and agreed also to put before the full bench an offer of proof of evidence, in which counsel will show what they expect to prove if they are allowed to include more testimony in the record. If the supreme court decides to allow the testimony, the hearings before Judge Sheldon will be resumed.

In argument for the petitioners yesterday, Nathan Mathews of counsel for

JAIL BOY BANDITS FELL FORTY FEET

Youthful Robbers Who Tried to Get Farmers $50,000 Sentenced

MANCHESTER, N. H., Nov. 18.—Ray E. Howard, 22 years old, and his brother, Ray A. Howard, 17 years old, both of 376 Main street, Haverhill, and Walter J. McKinley, 19 years old, of Amesbury, the three boys who are said to have conspired to hold up and rob Orrin Clark, a wealthy farmer of Derry road, of $50,000 Sunday night, and who were arrested by a squad of policemen lying in ambush, were sentenced by Judge Center in the local court yesterday.

Ralph E. and his brother, Ray A. Howard, were adjudged guilty of carrying loaded revolvers and Walter J. McKinley was found guilty of carrying a huge wooden bludge. The three were sentenced to serve one year in the county jail for carrying concealed weapons.

The police had been informed, it is said, by Bernard Fitzgerald, 37 Washington street, Haverhill, who claimed to have knowledge of the trio, that they had schemed to rob Orrin Clark, who lives with his wife in a lonely spot near Derry, N. H., and who the young men believed kept a large amount of money at his home.

At the time designated for the descent of the men on the home of Clark a squad of policemen lay in ambush about the place. When the suspected robbers approached the house the police pounced upon them and placed them under arrest.

Lawyer William D. Regan has filed a motion to set aside the verdict in the case of Dewey vs. Bay Street Railway Co., returned by the jury last Friday afternoon. The jury rendered a verdict for the plaintiff, assessing damages to the sum of $20.

THE NATIONAL GRANGE

OFFICERS FOR ENSUING TERM CHOSEN AT TODAY'S SESSION—LIVELY CONTESTS ON

MANCHESTER, N. H., Nov. 18.—The election today of officers, the contest between the so-called regulars and progressives of the national grange came to a climax. The progressives rallying around George P. Hampton of Clarksville, New York, had prepared a list of officers in opposition to the candidates of the regulars headed by National Master Oliver Wilson of Peoria, Ill., who seeks re-election.

The delegates also had under consideration the resolutions introduced today by C. O. Hays of Missouri, instructing the incoming administration to suspend any officer or member participating in or giving assistance to the progressive organization of state granges or giving out interviews reflecting upon the good name and character of any member of the national grange.

INVENTOR SUE

Boston Police Captain. Claims $25.22 Due Him on Signal Apparatus Invented by Albert Storer

BOSTON, Nov. 18.—Police Captain John Wiegell, in charge of the signal bureau of the police department, has entered suit against Albert Storer, mechanic and inventor, to recover $25.22.

Most of this sum is said to represent half of the purchase price of 15 time stamp clocks, sold to Captain Wiegell for the use of the city police signal service. The city paid $45.40 for the clocks and the bills were approved by Captain Wiegell.

The defendant, through an answer by his counsel, Attorney Everett W. Crawford, claims that Captain Wiegell employed him to correct certain imperfections in the automatic machines owned by the city and in doing so invented a clock, with improvements, which he patented. He says he made over a half interest in the patent to Wiegell, but not until after the sale of 15 machines had been consummated to the city. On the contrary, he says Wiegell still owes him money for work done in perfecting the machine.

FIVE MINUTE CURE IF STOMACH IS BAD

"Pape's Diapepsin" is Quickest, Surest Indigestion Cure Known.

You don't want a slow remedy when your stomach is bad—or an uncertain one—or a harmful one—your stomach is too valuable; you mustn't injure it with drastic drugs.

Pape's Diapepsin is noted for its speed in giving relief; its harmlessness; its certain unfailing action in regulating sick, sour, gassy stomachs. Its millions of cures in indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis and other stomach troubles have made it famous the world over.

Keep this perfect stomach doctor in your home—keep it handy—get a fifty-cent case from any drug store—and then if anyone should eat something which doesn't agree with them; if what they eat lays like lead, ferments and sours and forms gas; causes headache, dizziness and nausea; eruptions of acid and undigested food—remember as soon as Pape's Diapepsin comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. Its promptness, certainty and ease in overcoming the worst stomach disorders is a revelation to those who try it.

MOTHER! THE CHILD IS COSTIVE, BILIOUS

If Tongue is Coated, Breath Bad, Stomach Sour, Don't Hesitate!

Give "California Syrup of Figs" at once—a teaspoonful today often saves a sick child tomorrow.

If your little one is out-of-sorts, half-sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad, or has stomach-ache, diarrhea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated poisons, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels, and sweeten the stomach and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Don't be fooled!

EPIDEMIC OF GLANDERS

SPREADING IN THIS STATE—WATERING TROUGHS CLOSED—MANY HORSES EFFECTED

BOSTON, Nov. 18.—The epidemic of glanders which is spreading in this state, causing the watering troughs to be shut off, reached Malden yesterday, when several cases were found in the city.

Investigations, conducted by Inspector of Animals Dr. Simpson, revealed that the water of almost every watering trough in the city is polluted with glanders bacteria.

Every precaution being made to combat the dreaded disease, which is infectious among human beings as well as horses. Three horses have already been killed because of the disease, which it is believed has spread to many other horses.

The board of health has been asked to aid in stopping the disease from getting a foothold in the city, and all the watering troughs will be shut off within a day or two. Dr. Simpson has asked horse dealers not to water their horses from troughs, but use buckets. This is the only way to stop the ravages of the disease, as no medical means has been found which can save the life of an animal infected.

MOTHER TALKS

Says Walker Treated Wife "As a Gentleman Should"

NEWPORT, R. I., Nov. 18.—A handsome woman, dressed entirely in black, and with beautiful white hair, stepped forward and took her seat in the witness chair in the superior court yesterday afternoon.

She was Rebecca White Walker, widow of Rear Admiral John Walker, and mother of Commander James W. G. Walker, in whose favor she testified in the suit for divorce against him by Nina Walker.

Mrs. Walker said that her son had always treated his wife "as a gentleman should," being always considerate of her.

The financial difficulties were told of by Mrs. Walker, who said she had helped her son and his wife for many years by gifts of money, and had furnished their home for them when they first began married life.

The most interesting part of her story was with reference to a talk which she and her daughter-in-law had just previous to the birth of the youngest Walker child.

Young Mrs. Walker was averse to having more children and complained to the older woman of the great burden that children were, and said she was tired of caring for children. She got much excited, according to the witness, and said that rather than have more children she would leave her husband.

Mrs. Walker, Sr., had a long talk and a stormy one with her daughter-in-law relative to this, and begged her not to leave her husband. "I quoted the marriage service to my daughter-in-law," said the older woman, "and tried to make her see what a terrible thing it was that she was contemplating, but she persisted in her determination."

PROBE INTO COAL RATES

GROUND WORK OF INVESTIGATION BY INTERSTATE COMMISSION INTO RATES LAID—R. R. MEN HEARD

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 18.—The ground work of the investigation of the interstate commerce commission into the anthracite coal roads to determine whether their rates are reasonable and whether they are observing the interstate commerce laws was laid yesterday with the calling of witnesses before Commissioner John H. Marble to testify as to the facilities of the roads for handling coal.

It was the object of the commission's attorneys to learn how these facilities compared with those for the transportation of other commodities, the labor costs involved and the methods of operation with a view to their relation to the freight rates charged. This testimony will be supplemented later with that of accountants and other officials who will be called to show the cost of the investment of the roads devoted to the transportation of coal.

These costs will be checked up with the commission's own figures. The witnesses who testified yesterday were division superintendents and yardmasters of the Central railroad of New Jersey and the Reading. They described in detail the methods of handling coal and the amount shipped at the various tide-water terminals.

The hearings will continue until Saturday, when there will be a week's intermission before the investigation is resumed.

TO CLEAN, OR NOT TO CLEAN

That is the question. Whether it is better to use antiquated ideas or modern cleaning machinery has been tested fully in this establishment.

We do not infer that we, of late years, have employed stale methods. We haven't; but being the oldest established cleaning and dyeing house here, naturally there was a time when we had to use the "old way."

But now! what a change! A modernized plant, equal to any emergency. Such is progress!

BUREAU OF COMMERCE

To most people there is a vagueness about the names of the great government departments which, while it implies wide endeavor in a general way, leaves them totally unacquainted with the work being done. This is as true of the department of commerce as any other but an address recently made by Secretary Redfield of this department touches on the aims of the government with regard to it and gives a very comprehensive consideration of the scope of the undertaking as outlined, and the ends to be accomplished.

In opening, Mr. Redfield spoke in some detail of the organization of the department of commerce with its nine bureaus comprising the lighthouse service, the coast survey, the census, the bureau of corporations, the bureau of standards, the bureau of navigation, the steamboat inspection service, the bureau of fisheries and the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce. The secretary declared in another recent address that the scope of the department includes the heavens above, the earth below and the waters beneath, and the above list of activities verifies the assertion. His department employs over 8,500 men, of whom 1500 are in Washington, and the balance scattered all over the world from the Philippines and Hawaii to Alaska and the great ports of the world where its commercial agents are stationed.

As an example of the minor but important things being constantly attended to in the department of commerce, Secretary Redfield mentioned the following: A specialist on cotton manufacture has just been sent to Japan and China; an expert on coals, by-products is investigating such matters in Europe; a special monograph on special opportunities in South America is in course of preparation, and within a short time a student of banking and credit conditions will be sent to the capitals of Latin America to make a special investigation of this subject.

One of the great objects of the bureau of commerce is the promoting of export trade and the report of the secretary in this respect was very encouraging. American exports have gradually increased in volume until as Mr. Redfield said, "the tide of American business in the foreign field is at the flood." Nevertheless the administration feels that the possibilities for improvement are great and elaborate plans are now being made to increase the volume of export business enormously. Previously a great deal of educational work fell upon the American consuls but they had so many other things to attend to that they were not always able to give the bureau of commerce their best efforts. A new organization, therefore, has been planned by which the commercial interests of America will be attended to by a body of experts called "commercial attaches" who will be placed in all the principal capitals of the world. Already plans have been made for their reception in 14 of the most important cities in Australia, Asia, South America, and the capitals of Europe. Though these things sound far reaching in their scope, they are but a few of the innovations proposed by the secretary. Yet they are sufficient to prove that in the department of commerce as in the other government departments we are to have a prosperous and business-like administration.

THE COST OF LIVING

There is no difference of opinion about the fact that the cost of living is gradually increased of late years. If there is no unanimity of opinion about the causes for the increase. It is the problem of problems at present and so elastic in treatment that opposing political parties have no difficulties in appropriating it for campaign platforms and creating it from widely differing angles. One of the latest official recognitions of it was when the committee substituting the differences between the eastern railroads and their employees granted a wage increase proportionate to the same "cost of living."

This arrangement seemed quite reasonable and just, but there is a view of the question not usually seen by the ordinary citizen and the current issue of the "Railway Age Gazette" uncovers it. It explains that wages cannot be increased in any industry unless there has been an equivalent increase in the efficiency of labor without affecting the cost of operation and production in that industry, for a every industry the wages of labor are the principal factor in operating expenses, and in the transportation industry in particular the wages are by far the most important factor. Therefore, in the words of the railroad journal:

"If the cost of operation and production in an industry is increased to any considerable extent, then the rates or prices charged for the services rendered or the goods sold by that industry must also be increased. But an increase in the charges for services and the price of goods is of course an increase in the cost of living, and consequently it is another increase in wages. It is a vicious circle in which the cost of living, which will

Seen and Heard

A story Harry Lander told was about an old Scotch gamekeeper, who was being questioned by a rather inquisitive visitor who paid occasional visits to the neighborhood, and wanted to know all about the size and value of the estate.

"Are there many deer on the place?" was one of his questions.

"Thousands, sir," was the gamekeeper's reply.

"Many hares?" the other went on.

"Thousands, sir," the gamekeeper answered.

"Is that so? Well, now, are there many gillies?" the visitor asked sarcastically.

The gamekeeper hesitated for a moment, then he said:

"Well, sir, they come now and then—just like yersel!"

A Washington woman has in her employ an elderly colored man of a pompous and satisfied air, who not long ago permitted a dastard, long his ardent admirer, to become his spouse.

The day when the mistress of the house had occasion to temporarily avail herself of the services of the butler, it was observed that whenever the duties of the two brought them in conjunction the butler's eyes would shine with extraordinary devotion.

"Your wife seems wonderfully attached to you, 'Thomas,'" casually observed the mistress of the house.

"Yes, ma'am," answered Thomas, complacently. "Ain't it just sickenin'!"

Pickwick's discovery of a stone bearing an inscription of an ancient battle is recalled by a story which is going the rounds in Europe of a well-known Parisian antiquary, who, while on his holidays in Normandy, came across an old farm which had a curious bearing over one of the stable doors.

Beneath the carving was a wooden bar inscribed with a date. Examining it he found the latter to be 1081. All his antiquarian passions were aroused, and he set to work to dig out the bar.

END OF THE CAMPAIGN

The profits of today's elections will show whether the street corner rallies have influenced the votes of any large number of voters. There have been two methods of reaching the people and preventing the issues for their appraisal, one is by speaking to them directly at public rallies; the other by appealing to them through the press. Both methods have been freely used by a number of the candidates, while others have conducted their campaign mainly through the newspapers and still others by distributing personal cards and soliciting votes. It has been undoubtedly one of the hottest campaigns ever waged in this city and the interest in the result is very general.

SOUVENIR HUNTERS

At a recent convention of hotel proprietors in Providence the question of loss from petty thefts of souvenir hunters was introduced, and the evidence given showed that the loss to hotels from this source is very great. In one hotel in Boston, 56 new spoons which had been purchased for use on that day were taken during the festivities of Halloween eve. It was understood by the hotel men as it is by the general public that these losses are not due to malice or a desire to steal, but the sufferers are not able to be cheered very much by this consoling reflection when they are obliged to pay out of their pockets for the souvenir habit of hotel patrons. There is good reason to believe that the proprietors of such places have possible losses from this source in mind when they make up their price lists, but this is still another reason why souvenir hunting should be discouraged. Many good people do not hesitate to take silver, glassware or china from a hotel, but they would resent very strongly being accused of stealing. Yet souvenir hunting is stealing under a prettier name.

HUB CITY CLUB

New Home Will be Ready for Occupancy Next Fall

BOSTON, Nov. 18.—The announcement that the new home of the Boston City Club at Somerset street and Ashburton place is expected to be ready for occupancy early in the fall of 1914 was made at the annual meeting of the club last night.

The annual report of the executive committee stated that the City Club has established reciprocal relations with 11 clubs in other cities. The executive committee reported a substantial improvement in finances during the past two months. It also reported that the club showed a profit of over $1000 greater than last year.

The membership committee reported a membership of 4480 and a waiting list of 150. The membership at the end of 1912 was 2256. The entertainment committee reported that more entertainments had been given during the past year than in any previous year, and the art and library committee reported 2100 volumes and 250 pictures now owned by the club. All the reports were accepted.

The balloting which preceded the business session resulted in the election of the following members of the new board of governors:

A GREAT HILFEE

Fall River Globe: Huerta is quoted as saying that were the United States to make an armed invasion of Mexico it would be able to muster a force of 500,000 men to wipe the Yankees off the map. Big and brave talk from the head of a government who is unable to muster a sufficient army to maintain his authority over more than a third of the country and keep the unruly natives in the other two-thirds from cutting his cashing in defiance and contempt of him.

What other may be said of Huerta, it must be admitted that he is a great bluff, but he will be called one of these days. He is certain to overplay his hand.

CURRENCY BILL

Newport News: At last the administration currency bill, as it will probably go to the senate with the approval of President Wilson, has been completed by the democratic majority.

The other democratic members, Senator Hitchcock and five republicans, will present a different measure. Neither will be the committee bill with a majority back of it, but one will have the administration support, and it is hoped to secure its passage.

OUR WEATHER

Woonsocket Call: New England's climate has been since the early days, the best of western ones. But how often it is proved that our weather is more conducive to health and comfort than that of most parts of the region the other side of the Atlantic? Our climate is admirably variable, but its variability is not a defect in weather if it exercises between moderate limits.

SEES MAN FOR BEACH

SPRINGFIELD, Nov. 18.—To settle the ownership of five miles of beach in Ipswich along the estate of Richard T. Crane, a Chicago millionaire, the selection may resort to the courts.

The five miles along the shore is a fine bathing beach and the selection claim that it is the town property, while Mr. Crane holds to the opinion that he bought it as a part of the 192-acre estate he bought from John N. Brown a few years ago.

MATRIMONIAL

The marriage of Mr. William W. Rolfe and Miss Evelyn E. Hopkins was solemnized at the home of Rev. Theodore L. Frost, pastor of the Worthen Street Baptist church. The witnesses were Miss Mae Hopkins and Mr. William H. Rolfe, who acted as bridesmaid and best man respectively. The couple are now enjoying a honeymoon trip.

SAYS HUSBAND ELOPED

Wife of Missing Man Shows Letters Written by Woman Signing Herself "Your Loving Wife"

FALMOUTH, Nov. 18.—Because of evidence which he claims tends to show that J. B. Swain, superintendent of schools here, left town voluntarily and has not met with foul play or accident, Sheriff Herbert Lawrence last night withdrew his posse of 300 persons from the woods and swamps bordering this town.

Swain disappeared Saturday morning after starting on what he said would be a hunting trip.

A few days ago he had $100. I do not know where he got it. There was enough money left in the bank. I had just paid $100 to the garage man and I know that he didn't draw it from the bank.

"I am heartbroken. I always loved him and still do. I do not excuse his actions, but neither can I excuse that woman. She should have known better. I am sorry for my little boy, who doesn't know what is going on, but will later."

"I am confident that my husband is not dead, despite his suicide threats. I am afraid for myself. I want to tell the truth, but I am afraid that if I say too much I may come to harm. I know that in his right mind my husband would not harm me, but I am in trouble. I want to be honest and frank. I have nothing to conceal. I am sorry for my husband."

DEFECTIVE AT CAPITOL
WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—A guard of secret service men has been installed at the White House to keep watch over valuable wedding presents.

The jewelry and four solid silver dinner sets, together with a hundred odd pieces of silver and gold, valued at more than $100,000 are locked up in a closet under guard day and night.

HOW THIS WOMAN FOUND HEALTH

Would not give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for All Rest of Medicine in the World.

Utica, Ohio.—"I suffered everything from a female weakness after baby came. I had numb spells and was dizzy, had black spots before my eyes, my back ached and I was so weak I could hardly stand up. My face was yellow, even my fingernails were colorless and I had displacement. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and now I am stout, well and healthy. I can do all my own work and can walk to town and back and not get tired. I would not give your Vegetable Compound for all the rest of the medicines in the world. I tried doctor's medicines and they did me no good."—Mrs. MARY EARLEWINE, R.P.D. No. 3, Utica, Ohio.

Another Case.
Nebo, Ill.—"I was bothered for ten years with female troubles and the doctors did not help me. I was so weak and nervous that I could not do my work and every month I had to spend a few days in bed. I read so many letters about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound curing female troubles that I got a bottle of it. It did me more good than anything else I ever took and now I have cured me. I feel better than I have for years and tell everybody what the Compound has done for me. I believe I would not be living to-day but for that."—Mrs. HETIE GREENSTREET, Nebo, Illinois.

the "exhaustion" to counteract declared President Moore in his address. "Let me repeat it again—the toll of the sea along the Atlantic coast in the ten years from 1900 to 1910 was 2200 lives. The disasters numbered 5700, involving a property loss in excess of $40,000,000. That loss with a few industry millions added would have been sufficient to link up Jacksonville with Cape Cod, in accordance with the recommendations of the army engineers."

The Panama Canal

"There is another phase of this question to which I shall briefly refer," contrasting the value of Panama canal and Atlantic coast waterway projects. "We are approaching the completion of the Panama canal, the greatest of modern waterways and a glorious proof of American skill in engineering."

The estimated cost of the canal is $400,000,000. The benefits of our enterprise in this tremendous undertaking will accrue largely to Great Britain and Germany, who are our principal international competitors for South American trade.

"We have not made our vast expenditure on the isthmus without a corresponding decrease in the supply of funds available for river and harbor improvements at home. (to this extent) have we yielded our necessities to our patriotism) nor were these funds removed from home centers of circulation without reducing the home supply of ready cash. This has added to the increase in the cost of living."

"If we had spent $400,000,000 improving the rivers and harbors of the United States we would have secured the greatest of modern waterways, of which we now stand in need, and we would ourselves have derived the benefit of our enormously increased circulation of capital with its inevitable employment of labor at a profitable wage. But since we have constructed the Panama canal and are proud of it, it is fair to assume that we shall now be able to obtain greater attention for our home necessities and that in all reasonableness, we shall soon be able to increase our appropriations for important projects within the borders of the United States."

Closing his address President Moore urged the delegates to take no opportunity to advance the improvement of the Atlantic coast project.

MANUFACTURERS' LEAGUE

BOWLING TEAMS IN SHOPS AND FACTORIES PLAN ON NEW ORGANIZATION THIS WINTER

According to Charles H. Farrell of the Tremont & Suffolk team, the following teams have voiced their willingness to join the Manufacturers' Bowling League: Tremont & Suffolk, Merrimack, Helme Electric, Appleton, Derby & Morse, and Waterhead Mills. Four more teams are requested to enter, such teams as the M. C. B's, Saco-Lowell Machine Shop, Lawrence Mfg., Martin Bros., Barry Shoe or other strong teams. It is the earnest wish of Mr. Farrell to start the league by November 22.

The captains of mill or shoe shop teams are requested to talk it up and join the league within the next week, as it is getting well into the bowling season now, and if a league is not started within the next two weeks matters will be dropped. Such teams as the Bigelow Carpet Co. should be entered as a good team always represents the Carpet. The M. C. B. team is hitting a good pace and should be entered. A good team, have a fast team, also the Saco-Lowell shoe and mill, also the Saco-Lowell shoe and mill, also the Lawrence Mfg., Merrimack, Appleton and Beal mills.

ASSIST FOREST OWNERS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—In addition to the administration of its waste lands for forest purposes, the individual state should play a part in cooperating with private timberland owners, commensurate with the interest which the state has in maintaining its timber supply.

This principle is enunciated by the committee on state forestry at the national conservation congress here. The committee further recommends a general principle for the practice of state forestry everywhere that the governing board should be removed from partisan political control, and that the state forester should be fitted for his work by professional training and experience.

Civil service should govern in the selection of all forest officers, and all industries directly dependent on the forests should be represented on the state forestry board. Further, the committee says, the forest officers should have ample discretionary power, and should be delegated enough authority to settle controversies as they arise. After an organization is formed it should be provided with machinery which will make its work effective, such as ample funds, a sufficient force, prompt and effective measures against forest vandalism, and a strong police power. Without including all these things, the committee says, state legislation will fail of its purpose and largely be a dead letter.

TOO OLD TO WED

Seventy Year Old Man is Sued for Breach of Promise

BOSTON, Nov. 18.—At the age of 70 years Andrew S. MacLachlan, a carpenter and house owner, boarding at 44 Bigelow street, Brighton, has been sued for breach of promise. The plaintiff, Mrs. Mary E. Bird of Boston, says she has taken this step in vindication because, after a three-year courtship, during which they built a house and announced the approaching wedding, Mr. MacLachlan suddenly decided he was too old to marry.

She says they visited the new home in Roslindale together every Sunday, and the vegetables raised there this summer and that they built a fireplace in the bungalow designed by them. In common where they were to pop corn together during the winter months. Mrs. Bird is a widow with grown children living quietly in the Back Bay district and is about 45 years of age. She said last night: "I have worked hard and deprived myself in many ways in the last few years looking forward to the time when I should be married and have a home of my own. Mr. MacLachlan looks and appears much younger than he claims to be and I had thought him not more than 55 or 60."

"He has given me no good reason for his sudden determination not to marry other than that he felt himself too old. We have visited the new house continually and planned for the future. All of my folks knew of the approaching marriage and it has been a terrible shock and disappointment. I have therefore accepted the advice of my friends, obtained counsel and entered suit."

Mr. MacLachlan last night admitted that he knew who Mrs. Bird was, but said he had not been apprised of any suit against him for about 15 years of age. The attachment was filed against him at Pemberton square yesterday afternoon, for $10,000, through the law office of Warren, Burt & Palmer, acting for Mrs. Bird.

HURLED OFF FIRE TRUCK

BOSTON FIREMAN INJURED WHEN AUTO COLLIDED WITH HIS WAGON ON WAY TO FIRE IN CHURCH

BOSTON, Nov. 18.—While responding to an alarm for a fire in the basement of the Church of the Most Precious Blood, Hyde Park, last night, Edward N. Bullard, driver of Ladder Truck 28 was thrown from his seat and seriously injured when an automobile owned and operated by Jesse Tobey of 25 Lindsey street, Dorchester, collided with the truck near the junction of River and Maple streets, Hyde Park.

Driver Bullard sustained a scalp wound, sprained right shoulder and severely wrenched back. The horses attached to the ladder truck continued on their dash. George E. Ide of Vinthrop street, a ladder-truck man, who was on the rear of the truck when the accident occurred, climbed along the running board to the driver's seat and secured control of the horses before they reached the top of the hill.

The fire was in the basement of the Church of the Most Precious Blood, at Maple and Clark streets, and was due to spontaneous combustion in a closet where were temporarily housed oil cans and paint used by the painters employed to decorate the upper part of the church. The damage was slight.

TWO SWEEP OVERBOARD

ONE MAN DROWNED AND ANOTHER NARROWLY ESCAPED WHEN SCHOONER WAS CAUGHT IN GALE

BOSTON, Nov. 18.—A thrilling tale of a drowning and rescue at sea was told yesterday afternoon by the crew of the schooner Francis V. Sawyer, Captain John Duffy, which anchored off the East Boston flats, yesterday morning after an exciting trip from Charleston, S. C.

In a squall which overtook the schooner about 10 miles east of Charleston on Nov. 8, John Johnson was bowled overboard by the sudden jolting of the forecast boom and drowned. Antonio Aalta was washed overboard, but saved.

Johnson had been sent out on the fore boom to tend tackle. Captain Duffy heard a cry and put the wheel hard down in a desperate effort to make an attempt to rescue Johnson, who was seen to disappear overboard.

In coming about so suddenly in the gale, the schooner's fore house was smashed in, and her hatches broken down. When the waves washed over the deck, Aalta was swept overboard. He was so tangled up in the main sheets, however, he was hauled back to safety without much difficulty.

The Francis V. Sawyer brought a big load of lumber for a local dealer, Johnson, who was lost, was signed as from Berlin, N. H.

SELECT SITE FOR HOSPITAL

State Board of Health Recom-
mends Land in Pawtucketville
—Hope Estate Also Favored

After years of waiting, discussion, fidgeting, quarrelling and site hunting it looks now as if Lowell would have a contagious hospital. Two-thirds of a commission known as the contagious hospital commission resigned several months ago because of the inability of its members to agree upon a site and, as a matter of course, the hospital question was turned over to the municipal council. Mayor O'Donnell used every endeavor to have a site selected but without avail. There were many sites offered and the mayor expressed his preference, but said he would be willing to vote for any site favored by a majority of the council.

The council failed to agree upon a site and it was finally decided to ask the state board of health to send a representative to Lowell to examine the various sites and to make a report as to what site or sites, in his judgment, is best adapted for the erection of such a building. This was considered a good move on the part of the council inasmuch as the state board would have to approve any site selected by the municipal council.

The state board has replied to the council and advises that, in the opinion of the board, the best site is the one situated on the northwest side of Seventh avenue, Pawtucketville, between Mt. Hope and Mt. Grove streets and consisting of about five acres. The greater portion of this land is owned by the Connors Bros. Co., and a portion of the two acres, which the state board recommends as an addition, belongs to the Gage estate. The 123,500 feet of Connors Bros. Co. land on Seventh avenue, is taxed for $2600. The state board's letter to the municipal council will be acted upon at the next regular meeting of the municipal council. It reads as follows:

Nov. 6, 1913.
To the Municipal Council of the City of Lowell, Mass.
Gentlemen: In response to your vote of October 21st, "that the state board of health be requested to send a representative to examine the various sites and make a report as to what site or sites, in his judgment, is best adapted for the erection of a building for the care of tuberculosis," the location of the several proposed sites was obtained from the mayor and each was carefully examined by a committee of the board.

Of the eight sites proposed, two are, in the opinion of the board, very well adapted for the purpose. One in Chelmsford street, designated as the Hope estate, is about 2,500 feet from city hall. It includes about six acres and rises to a site for buildings about 80 feet above water. It overlooks all neighboring buildings with free air from distance in all directions. The high ground with a southerly slope is well situated for permeability. There is a vacant land a little higher to the northeast. Existing homes are much lower and 200 or 300 feet from the building site. Street cars are on adjoining street fifty feet below and steam railroad is 1700 feet distant.

The other site is on the north-west side of Seventh avenue, Pawtucketville, between Mount Hope and Mount Grove streets, prolonged. It contains about five acres, being about 700 feet from city hall with street cars 1000 feet east and 1600 feet west. There is a water pipe in front and sewers near each end. Much of the area has a growth of pine trees, is nearly level and about 55 feet above water in the river above the dam, with a gentle southerly slope and with a steep slope to the northeast at one end. The surface is well above the land in all directions, except to the northwest where unimproved land rises perhaps 15 feet higher.

With the addition of two acres of this higher land, the board is of the opinion that this site is the best adapted for a tuberculosis hospital among those proposed. Without this addition, the Hope estate on Chelmsford street is preferable.

By order of the board,
(Signed),
Mark W. Richardson, M. D., Secretary.

PRIMARY ELECTION ON

Have you voted?
The polls close at 8 o'clock tonight and this is said last you forget. It was stated in a morning paper yesterday that the polls would close at 8 o'clock, but that was a misstatement. The polls will close at 8 o'clock.

The weather today was ideal for an election day. Old timers were heard to say that they had never seen a fairer election day and it was prophesied on all sides that the vote would be unusually large for a preliminary skirmish. Old men and sick men went to the polls today, for there was nothing to prevent them. There were automobiles and carriages galore; one candidate having over 50 automobiles pledged to him.

There was considerable speculation in the streets as to who the nominees for mayor and alderman would be. About all of the states carried O'Donnell's name for mayor and a great many of the presagers had Barrett for high man on the aldermanic ticket, others Cummings, and different other candidates.

The great interest attending the election seemed to die out, in part, with the speech making window last night. The basement at city hall was a lively place for a short time this forenoon. The activity there had to do with the removal of the ballot boxes to the different precincts. Moody street was lined with furniture moving and express wagons and the basement was filled with ballot boxes and police officers.

It is expected at city hall that the returns will come in early and fast. The ballot is a very simple one and while it is expected that the vote will be a heavy one the results should be pretty well known by 11 o'clock.

Tour of Polling Booths
A representative of The Sun visited all the voting places of this city this afternoon, starting his round shortly after the opening of the polls, and it was evident at the outset that it would be very difficult to get a line on who the winners will be. In the republican wards the vote is coming out strong, but in the democratic districts the voters were slow in casting their votes. However it is expected there will be a big rush from 5 to 8 this evening.

The chief contest seems to be between the majority candidates, but at 2 o'clock this afternoon the reports from the different sections of the city were so conflicting that it is an impossibility to do up on who the successful candidates will be. Stronuous work is being done by friends of the candidates for mayor, commissioner and school committeeman, and the result of the arduous campaign will be that the precinct officers will have their hands full in tallying up the large vote this evening, although the ballot will be a simple one to count.

The women are also much interested in the school committee contest, and many gathered at the polls several minutes before the opening of the polling booths. In precinct three of ward six, the first woman to cast her vote was Miss Agnes McCann of 3 Hamel place, who arrived at the booth in Lakewood avenue at 1:50 o'clock, or ten minutes before opening time. In precinct three of ward one, Mary F. Dean and Alice A. Holtham were the first to receive ballots, and they made their crosses in quick time.

In ward 2, precinct 1, the vote this afternoon was rather slow, for at one o'clock there were 69 votes cast, while in precinct 3 of the same ward a few minutes later the machine registered 100, and it was stated there that about one-third of the vote was cast by women. In 1 of 5, 120 ballots had been taken out at 1:05 o'clock, while in two of the same ward the 100th mark had been reached and that was considered a poor vote. In precinct 3 of ward 3, the clock marked 1:34 at 1:15 o'clock, while in ward 4, precinct 1, there was a contrast, the vote registered being only 45.

The other precincts in the democratic wards showed a slow vote, but these in charge of the voting places say the bulk of the vote is generally cast between the hours of 6 and 8 p. m.

ORDERS REARREST OF HARRY THAW

Judge Aldrich of Federal Court Issues
Order But New Arrest Was Delayed
Pending Decision on Technicalities

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 18.—Judge Edgar Aldrich in the federal court today ordered the rearrest of Harry K. Thaw on the strength of the extradition warrant issued recently by Governor Feltner. This was done to clear the record but counsel immediately engaged in an argument over the custody of the prisoner and the new arrest was delayed pending the decision of the court on certain technicalities. The new arrest will make no difference in the limited freedom he has enjoyed since his arrest at Coteau several weeks ago, as a fugitive from justice.

Governor Feltner granted extradition on the ground that Thaw had been indicted in New York county for conspiracy to escape from the Matteawan

New York, insane asylum and the prisoner's status had to be changed so that the courts could deal with his case without endless complications.

After a conference between court and counsel it was agreed that Thaw be discharged as a fugitive and rearranged on the extradition warrant and the court so ordered. Judge Aldrich directed that counsel perfect their pleadings and that briefs be filed following which he would fix a date for final arguments on the habeas corpus proceedings.

"Apart from the sentimental features of this case," Judge Aldrich said, "important principles are involved which require the fullest attention on my part before rendering my decision."

"Just before luncheon adjournment, counsel became involved in a dispute over the custody of the prisoner and the proceedings were suspended until 3 p. m. In the meantime counsel will put their agreement in writing so that there may be no misunderstanding. The dispute postponed the rearrest of the fugitive until after the reconvening of the court this afternoon.

Thaw was in court, accompanied by his mother, and in custody of United States Marshal Nute and Sheriff Drew of Coos county. He was represented by former Governor William A. Stone of Pennsylvania, George M. Morris and Merrill Shortell of Lancaster and William Chase, Dewitt Howe and Joseph A. Banigan of Concord.

Mr. Jerome, Franklin Kennedy, deputy attorney general and Bernard Jacobs of Lancaster appeared for the state of New York.

WEDDING IS OFF EIGHT MONTHS

Intended Husband Mistreated Sweetheart and Was Arrested

In all probability the wedding bells will not ring for James Pappas, at least until the Ethelou will not marry him according to her statement in police court today.

The case against Pappas was one of assault and battery upon his sweetheart. The lady in the case, who by the way is only seventeen years of age, claimed her youthful lover entered the Hamilton mill yesterday morning and forcibly induced her to leave and go with him to get married.

The pair left the mill and walked down Central street to Market, and up Market to Dutton street. As they reached Dutton street the girl attempted to run away from her lover with the result that he overtook her and dragged her into a nearby doorway. Then the proposed marriage was all off.

The defendant says that the girl left the mill of her own accord and wanted to enter matrimonial bliss as much as did he himself. Just why she experienced her change of heart and tried to run away from him he did not know and he baited the girl to find out why she changed her mind. He said that he did not strike her or use her roughly.

Judge Enright ordered the defendant to pay the costs of the trial and had him placed under bonds to keep the peace.

FOR LARCENY

Man Stole Clothing
From Tewksbury
Farm Hands

The two cases which developed from the larceny of coal from the E. A. Wilson Coal Company came up for trial in the local police court this morning before Judge Enright. The case of John J. Armstrong, charged with the larceny of three hundred pounds of coal, was first disposed of by the defendant pleading guilty to the charge.

Alexander Perkins, a resident of Howard street, was charged with receiving stolen property and through his attorney, S. Goldman, Esq., pleaded not guilty to the charge. Armstrong's sentence was reserved until the case of Perkins was disposed of.

Armstrong was the principal witness against Perkins. The witness admitted that the sale of the coal which was given him at the yard to deliver for the Wilson Company. His scheme was to sell several bags from each load and sell them cheap enough so that the buyer would save a substantial sum from buying of him.

The witness testified that Perkins bought the coal from him. Lawyer Goldman asked him if he was drinking on the day, November 8, that he sold the defendant the coal and he said that he was.

Officer Shapiro, who was the one who first discovered the fact that coal was being stolen from the company in this manner, took the stand and testified to what he saw on the day when the police alleged that the defendant bought the coal.

The officer was standing about 20 feet away from Armstrong when the latter stopped his team and carried up three bags of coal to the house of the defendant. Perkins was out back in the barn and his wife did not arrive until Armstrong had delivered two of the bags. The prosecution argued from this that a previous arrangement must have been made between Armstrong and Perkins or the

TWO DOES KILLED

Lowell Hunters Met
Good Luck in Search for Deer

Freddie Downs, whose home is at 112 Jackson street, has arrived at the conclusion that it sometimes pays to neglect the inner man when one is looking for big game. Freddie, in company with James Morris and Albert Coburn, started out yesterday morning in search of deer. They started very early in the morning and had not sighted anything up to the noon hour. They had arrived at a very delightful little bathing spot in the Tyngsboro woods when the clock in the steeple struck twelve and James and Albert advised that they would have something to eat. They set about preparing their lunch while Freddie, who allowed that the inner man could hold out a little longer, went looking for deer. He had been gone about half an hour when a shot rang out and his comrades jumped to their feet. It didn't take them long to locate Freddie and when they located him they found him proudly standing by the dead body of a 200 pound doe. Nuff sed.

Another Hunter's Luck
Maynard Leary, well known employee of Millard Feindel at Davis square, was one of the earliest successful deer hunters, having killed a 200 pound doe yesterday. Mr. Leary and a companion in the course of the pursuit of the fleet footed inhabitant of the forest wandered to the vicinity of Carlisle in which section fortune smiled upon them. A party of four, including Mr. Erson Barlow, recently elected county commissioner, had been hunting in the vicinity and had come across some deer tracks which, however, they did not follow for any great distance. Mr. Leary and his fellow hunterman happened upon the same trail a little later and decided to investigate. The tracks led them into a little valley, a short distance along which they saw a big doe. The quick and sure aim of Mr. Leary ended the deer's career and Mr. Leary has since been receiving the congratulations of his friends, including members of Mr. Barlow's party. It was Mr. Leary who drove the machine in which Mr. Barlow conducted his political campaign a few weeks ago and the county commissioner-elect expresses the belief that the successful hunter is pursued by good luck.

STRIKE AT LAWRENCE

STATE BOARD OF ARBITRATION
TRY TO BRING ABOUT CONFER-ENCE TO EFFECT SETTLEMENT

LAWRENCE, Nov. 18.—Arrangement for conferences with a view to arbitration were expected to be the feature of the second day of the strike of the union boiler men at the local mills. Members of the state board of conciliation and arbitration are actively engaged in efforts to bring about a meeting between the interested parties in order to secure an early settlement of the strike if possible. The mills were all running again today but many of them are more or less handicapped by the absence of the regular firemen.

The strikers expressed themselves as willing to arbitrate but declared that no settlement which does not provide a shorter workday will be possible.

MUNICIPAL COUNCIL
The municipal council met at 9:30 o'clock this morning and adjourned tomorrow forenoon at 11 o'clock. The council did not transact any business at this morning's meeting. There are a number of petitions, principally for pole locations, to come before the council tomorrow and it is expected that Commissioner Brown will present his loan order for $5000.

900 ANSWER "AD" FOR WIFE

John Farrell Seeks Separation
From Wife Pending Proof of
Former Husband's Death

A story of unusual interest was unfolded at the jury waived session of civil superior court this morning with Judge Pratt presiding. John Farrell, formerly of Dracut, petitioned to have annulled his marriage with Josephine Farrell on the grounds that at the time of their marriage his wife's second husband was not known to be dead. It was the third marriage for both parties and the last came about as the result of an advertisement in a Boston newspaper, in which Mr. Farrell made known the fact that he was seeking a wife. It is said that no less than 900 women begged his companionship for life in answer to his request for "bids" for a partner and after a careful study he picked Mrs. Josephine Higgins, a Cambridge widow.

The couple then came to Dracut to settle down and Mr. Farrell prepared a neat little cottage, started a poultry farm and worked in the garden. John claimed that the place was so cozy that

BILLERICA LIBEL SUIT

More Testimony for the Defense
—Mr. Clark Again on the
Stand Today

The trial of the libel suit of Twombly vs. Clark was resumed at the opening of superior court this morning with Mr. Clark, the defendant, again on the stand.

The witness was questioned by his counsel relative to his conversations with Mr. Twombly before the time that the alleged libelous statement was sent out. Mr. Wilson then took the witness.

He said at no time had he any malice against Mr. Twombly and never intended to do Mr. Twombly any injury but intended to prevent his election to highway surveyor in 1909. Witness said that he believed it his duty to circulate those statements about the plaintiff.

He testified that at one time Mr. Twombly was a member of the water board but that Mr. Clark, did not question Mr. Twombly's action in certain matters then.

"Do you know when Mr. Twombly was repairing the house that has been described?"

"I don't remember the date."

"When you wrote that letter to Mr. Pratt asking for information did you have in mind this house?"

"I did."

"Did you make any investigation to find out when the house was finished?"

"No sir."

"Did it make any difference to you how old these stories were?"

"No, it did not."

"What efforts did you make to find if this matter had been investigated?"

"I did not take any particular steps as I intended to investigate it myself."

"Were you willing to do him the injury if he was guilty?"

"I did not intend to do him an injury."

"If you found Mr. Twombly guilty were you willing to do what you thought was your duty?"

"I was."

"Did you not think that the opinion of the public was enough for this matter?"

"I wanted to find out for myself."

"Did you go to Officer Conway and ask him to investigate this?"

"No."

"You talked with Officer Conway, did you not?"

"Yes."

"And did he give you his opinion as to Mr. Twombly's conduct?"

"About the other charges, yes."

"Did you consider the matter of calling the officer about this?"

"I thought it unnecessary."

"You called no one to your assistance when you started to find whether Mr. Twombly was guilty or innocent?"

"I did not."

Mr. Clark then read his letter to Mr. Pratt asking for information and also Mr. Pratt's letter to him. (Both letters were mentioned yesterday.) Upon receipt of that letter, Mr. Clark said he concluded that Mr. Twombly was guilty. He stated that he attempted to get evidence to overturn the information contained in the letter from Mr. Pratt.

"Who was present at the meeting in Mr. Talbot's house?"

Witness mentioned several names.

Attorney Wilson asked the witness about the identification of several men that were present and Mr. Clark told him their occupations.

"What was your purpose in calling them?"

"Because they were voters of Billerica and interested in town affairs and

CHASED BY WIFE

Man Afraid to Return Home Asks Court Order for Underwear

BOSTON, Nov. 15.—Joseph E. Weyn, now of Boston, in a bill in equity brought in the superior court here against his wife, Edna Abelle Weyn, declares that he was forced to separate from her because she chased him about the house with a carving knife. He wants the court's aid in recovering his bankbook and underwear, because he is afraid he cannot return for them without being in danger of injury.

He states that he was married Feb. 3, 1912, and left his home in Lincoln on Nov. 12, 1913. He says in his bill that he gave his wife formal written notice that he would no longer live with her.

His Land in Billerica
He is a cigarmaker by trade and earns from $20 to $25 a week, he says. During their married life he gave her $20 a week. During the period that he lived with his wife the latter's mother and her brother, Wendell Abelle, also made their home there, although this was against his consent and objections.

He has made, he says, various requests for information concerning the status of his wife's relations in his home and has been unable to discover whether or not he is supporting them.

His wife's conduct was such, he declares, that he could not exercise his legal rights as the master of his own household.

He asks the court's aid in obtaining possession of the following articles, which are at 551 Lynn street, Linden Morris chair, two Brussels lace collars, two Venetian lace collars, two French lace collars, one Belgian collar, two

FAMOUS VOCAL TEACHER

MADAME MATHILDE DECASTRONE MARCHESI DIED TODAY AT THE AGE OF 87

LONDON, Nov. 15.—Madame Mathilde Decastrone Marchesi, one of the most famous vocal teachers, died today at the age of 87. She was born at Frankfurt-on-the-Main and her maiden name was Mathilde Graumann. She was originally a concert singer but joined the Vienna conservatory as a teacher in 1851. She afterward taught in Paris, then in Cologne and later returned to Vienna, where she left finally in 1851 to establish herself in Paris, where she has since lived.

Madame Marchesi's husband, Salvatore Cavallieri Decastrone, also was a singer who made his debut in New York in 1848. Her daughter, Blanche, is a concert and opera singer but has recently assisted her mother in teaching.

NEWSPAPER DIRECTORY OF WORLD

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Americans are known the world over as "good advertisers," and there is now a disposition to extend the liberal use of printer's ink to foreign countries. American advertising thus accomplishes American goods abroad. In response to requests from American manufacturers and exporters, the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, department of commerce, is issuing a newspaper directory that contains lists of news and trade papers in the principal cities and towns in foreign countries, supplemented with information as to advertising rates, subscription price, circulation, etc. These lists were transmitted by American consular officers who are in a position to judge the value of local publications for advertising purposes.

No attempt has been made to publish complete schedules of advertising rates, but a general idea may be obtained from the facts furnished. Brief statements are given also of the population, trade, and industries of the districts covered by the reports. Copies of this publication will be sold by the superintendent of documents, government printing office, Washington, D. C., for 25 cents each.

STORM SIGNALS

At the White House As Result of Decision by "Cabinet Ladies"

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Storm signals are being displayed in official circles in Washington as a result of the decision of the "cabinet ladies" to cut from their calling list the wives of members of the house on the ground that some paring of the overcrowded calendar had to be done at the opening of a busy social season. The women of the official set are now embroiled in two camps and the feud threatens to spread into governmental quarters. So many calls in the season, those held to be imperative and those established by precedent, have to be made by the wife of a cabinet officer and it was regarded as a physical impossibility to extend the list this year. The decision to cut off the names of the house members' wives from the list was said to have been prompted by the greatly increased membership of the house and the fact that no precedent rendered the calls imperative.

The "cabinet ladies" have endeavored to hold out the olive branch by assuring the "house ladies" that their names will be on the cabinet reception days' list. This has had the effect of further incensing the congressional women, it is declared, and the social war is being waged merrily.

MR. McCLOSKEY GRATEFUL

The following is from John B. McCloskey, democratic candidate for county commissioner:

Boston, Nov. 15, 1913.

The Lowell Sun:

Dear Editor: With your kind permission I would like to extend my thanks through the columns of your valuable paper to the voters of Lowell for the generous vote given me in the recent election of county commissioner.

Again thanking you for the space in your paper, I remain, very truly yours, John B. McCloskey.

FORMER LOWELL BOY

GEORGE H. COLBY CONGRATULATED THE SUN FOR ITS WORK IN RECENT ELECTION

Mr. George H. Colby who will be remembered as a Lowell boy, now in a law office in Tacoma, Wash., writes The Sun the following note relative to the recent election:

Tacoma, Wash., Nov. 13, '13.

Dear Sir: Accept my sincere congratulations both for yourself personally and for the splendid work of The Sun on the results of the election and especially the selection of Mr. Walsh of Clinton for governor and that of Mr. Hagan for the governor's council.

We do not have such a body as governor's council in the western states, and I hope that among other antiquated and out-of-date machinery of government that will be abolished in Massachusetts; also I hope that the present assembly will correct that outrageous gerrymander by our opponents of the senatorial and representative districts.

Being a constant reader of The Sun you must understand that I am a "progressive" democrat, who hopes to your paper take a broad and progressive stand in all matters pertaining to the welfare of the commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Yours fraternally, Geo. H. Colby

Resolution Demanding Congressional Investigation of Michigan Copper Companies by A.F. of L.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 18.—Flery speeches were made in the American Federation of Labor convention yesterday, attacking the Michigan copper owners whose employees are on strike. Resolutions demanding a congressional investigation and calling for contributions for the support of the strikers were adopted.

President Samuel Gompers said the convention undoubtedly would adopt resolution, if it were presented, demanding investigation as to how the Calumet & Hecla company obtained the land from U. S.

Joseph D. Cannon of the Western Federation of Miners described the conditions under which the workers revolted, and declared documentary evidence was available to prove that the Calumet & Hecla company obtained the land from the United States government in 1853 valuable mineral land as a grant in aid of a canal, the land never being used for canal purposes, but for the copper it contained.

Says Soldiers Are Drunk

John B. Lennon, treasurer of the federation, described the daily parades of men and women in the copper country. Armed men--militia and detective agency employees--marched along with the paraders on the highway, he said, seeking to provoke them to violence. Soldiers raced their horses across and through the parades, he said.

"After midnight," said Lennon, "I walked through the streets of Calumet, in company with Michigan public officials, and saw young soldiers drunk on the streets with belts on and revolvers in their belts. They were unfit to be soldiers of this or any country. I saw them insult women on the streets, and it was difficult for me, old as I am to restrain myself from seizing soldiers by the throat and throwing them into the streets."

CONGRESSIONAL INVESTIGATION
SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 18.—The feature of this morning's session of the American Federation of Labor was expected to be a resolution presented by Thomas Van Ler, demanding that congress investigate the charges made on the floor of the convention that the Michigan copper companies obtained much of their land by fraud under congressional grants sixty years ago in aid of canals which never were built. In the clashes between the administration and the progressives yesterday, the latter were not much outnumbered on some of the votes but at no time was there any show of bitterness between the two elements in the convention and the discussion of the copper strike seemed to draw the delegates together. It is the story that John Mitchell was a candidate for president against Samuel Gompers who was to be offered the post of historian and editor of the official journal was originated for the purpose of benefiting the candidacy of John H. White, president of the United Mine Workers of America for the second vice presidency of the federation to succeed John Mitchell, who is retiring, voluntarily.

The socialists favored White and to bring the administration forces to terms they put up John Mitchell as a candidate for president. Today it is said that White is not acceptable to the administration forces, their candidate being T. A. Rickert of New York.

How To Stop Falling Hair; Grow New Hair

You, yourself, at home, can mix the best remedy in the world for most hair and scalp troubles.

To stop falling hair, destroy dandruff, invigorate the scalp, make new hair grow (even on bald spots), kill all scalp germs, and make your hair soft, lustrous and beautiful to use. It is not a dye and cannot stain or injure the hair or scalp. The above formula was originated some eight or nine years ago by one of the most successful hair and scalp specialists in New York City. Finally, the formula came out in one of the newspapers. After that it was published in leading newspapers everywhere in America and abroad. It is estimated that three to four million people have used it. Very likely some of your own friends are familiar with this formula.

6 ounces bay rum.
2 ounces lavender compound.
1/2 drachm menthol crystals.
1 drachm perfume.

If you prefer, your druggist will do the mixing for you. This widely known formula is the best thing you can possibly use. It does not leave the hair greasy or oily. It instantly cures itching, dandruff, and keeps the scalp cool, and is delightful to use. It beautifies the hair wonderfully. It is not a dye and cannot stain or injure the hair or scalp. ### This Simple Recipe Quickly Banishes Hairs

Here is a simple and inexpensive recipe or formula which is used with excellent results by many beauty specialists for removing hairy growths on the face, neck or arms: Mix a stiff paste with a little delatone and water and spread on hairy surface for 2 or 3 minutes, then rub off, wash the skin and it will be entirely free from hair or blemish. Care should be exercised to get the delatone in an original package, otherwise it may not be pure.

Upho Cucco of North Marginal street, had testified that on the night of alleged murder he had finished his work and had started for a cafe. When he reached the corner of Parmenter and Hanover streets he heard Caraballo and Marchese talking in a loud tone. After Caraballo made a remark about his countrymen Marchese started to go away, with the remark that he was not going to stand anything like that, and that Caraballo then half-pushed him with his hand and started across the street.

Marchese followed him, and when Caraballo got to the entrance of the drug store on the corner of Parmenter and Hanover streets Marchese pulled out his gun and fired one shot and a moment later hesitated and then fired two more shots.

For the defense Antonio d'Elisguere and Vincenzo Butti told of seeing Marchese and Caraballo in the cafe and surrounded by their companions, who were quarrelling with each other, and then of the quarrel later outside between Marchese and Caraballo.

This announcement was made yesterday by the luncheon committee of the league. Soon after the children arrive at school they will be given the bath and then served with breakfast. The menu will be changed each day, one of the breakfasts consisting of creamed fish on toast, milk and bananas.

50,000 MEMBERS

Represented at Conference of Priests for Holy Name Increase

BOSTON, Nov. 18.—"Ninety per cent. of the men of each parish for the Holy Name society" was the slogan of more than 200 priests of the Boston diocese assembled in the conference room of the Cathedral of the Holy Cross in attendance at the annual meeting of the spiritual directors of the Holy Name society yesterday afternoon.

The meeting was called by the Rt. Rev. Mgr. M. Spillane, D. D., rector of the cathedral, who some time ago was appointed diocesan director of the Holy Name society by the cardinal. Cardinal O'Connell, who is deeply interested in the welfare of the organization, addressed the priests.

The gathering included pastors and curates of the diocese who are in charge of the local societies. In the diocese at the present time, the society has a membership of more than 50,000 men.

It was the first address of Mgr. Spillane to the various parish directors, and he dealt at some length with the society and then introduced a number of propositions for discussion. He urged a closer co-operation between the directors and the members.

He recommended the organizing of parish societies with consultants in charge of hands so that these consultants would be responsible to the spiritual director, and the latter would be enabled by a report of absence to visit any member and learn whether he was ill or what prevented his attendance, thus developing a closer bond between members of the organization.

The society handled a larger volume of work during the past year than it had at any preceding year since 1908. It reports that the cost involved in supervising and maintaining these 400 children amounted to $57,325.71.

BANDITS ROB PAYMASTER

Armed Men Point Revolvers at Southbridge Official and Force Him to Give up $1000

SOUTHBRIDGE, Nov. 18.—Two bandits held up Robert E. Dwyer, paymaster of the American Optical Company last evening, and with the muzzles of their revolvers shoved into his face took $1000 in pay envelopes. He was distributing among the hands of the Lonsdale factory.

One of the men fired a shot at Dwyer as they started away with the cash. The bullet grazed his head.

The paymaster, nothing daunted by the run play, started after the pair as they commenced to run.

Then both started running and when Dwyer halted, ran into the woods surrounding the big factory.

Armed posses of police and citizens are scouring the neighboring woods near the factory in which the bandits disappeared.

Police of surrounding cities and towns have been notified to keep watch, descriptions of the burglars having been furnished.

The hold-up occurred at 5.30 o'clock.

Dwyer had paid off the men of one section of the factory, and was on the bridge between the power house and lens factory, when he was suddenly confronted by two men, one a large man and the other short in stature. The larger of the pair grabbed the tin box in which were the pay envelopes, while both pushed forward revolvers at him.

Dwyer, surprised by the sudden assault, began to retreat from the cash box before he had grasped the situation. As the men started to run away, the shorter of the two fired his revolver at him from a distance of but a few feet.

Both Open Fire

Undaunted by the bullet which clipped past his face, the paymaster started in pursuit. He followed the fleeing men as far as the rear of the power house. At this point he stopped when both men turned and opened fire.

TALBOT SCHOOL CLOSED

SEVERAL CASES OF DIPHTHERIA AMONG SCHOOL CHILDREN AT NORTH BILLERICA

For the second time within a month the Talbot school at North Billerica has been closed by the board of health of that town in an attempt to prevent a diphtheria epidemic. At the present time there are seven or eight cases in the town and the disease is confined to school children. It is understood that the school will open next Monday and during the next few days all books and desks will be fumigated. About three weeks ago the school was closed for two days, there being two or three children ill at that time. Over 200 children between the ages of five and fifteen are enrolled at the school.

RULING FOR NEW HAVEN

Severe Set Back Sustained by the Opposition to the $67,000,000 Bond Issue

BOSTON, Nov. 18.—A severe set back was sustained by the opposition to the $67,000,000 New Haven bond issue yesterday afternoon when Judge Sheldon of the supreme court decided, subject to reversal by the full bench, that the evidence presented at the public service commission's hearings on the bond issue would not be submitted to the supreme court.

This means that when the full bench considers the legal questions involved in the appeal against the issue, it will have before it only the petition filed by counsel for Morgan G. Bulkeley, appealing from the commission's ruling, the answers thereto and the final report of the majority of the commission.

Counsel for former Governor Bulkeley strenuously opposed this ruling of the court. Attorney James F. Jackson claiming that the evidence which he desired to present could be put in in two days. Attorney-General James M. Swift, who appears on behalf of the commission, also opposed the exclusion of the testimony, while Charles F. Choate, Jr., and General Counsel Edward D. Robbins, for the New Haven, spoke against admitting the whole record.

It was pointed out by counsel for the New Haven that as the commission could act on its general knowledge of conditions quite apart from the testimony introduced, the inclusion of the voluminous records of the hearings would necessitate the admission of further evidence explaining it, and even of the Prouty hearings last spring.

Merely Conclusory

On the other hand it is claimed by counsel for the petitioners that the final report of the commission made no definite findings of fact, but stated merely conclusions, partly of law and partly of fact and that the supreme court will not have sufficient facts on which to make a decision.

Judge Sheldon reserved the exceptions of counsel for the commission and agreed also to put before the full bench an offer of proof of evidence, in which counsel will show what they expect to prove if they are allowed to include more testimony in the record. If the supreme court decides to allow the testimony, the hearings before Judge Sheldon will resume.

In argument for the petitioners yesterday, Nathan Mathews of counsel for

JAIL BOY BANDITS FELL FORTY FEET

Youthful Robbers Who Tried to Get Farmers $50,000 Sentenced

MANCHESTER, N. H., Nov. 18.—Ralph E. Howard, 22 years old, and his brother, Ray A. Howard, 17 years old, both of 176 Main street, Haverhill, and Walter J. McKinley, 19 years old, of Amesbury, the three boys who are said to have conspired to hold up and rob Orrin Clark, a wealthy farmer of Derry road of $50,000 Sunday night, and who were arrested by a squad of policemen lying in ambush, were sentenced by Judge Center in the local court yesterday.

Ralph E. and his brother, Ray A. Howard, were adjudged guilty of carrying loaded revolvers and Walter J. McKinley, was found guilty of carrying a huge wooden blilly. The three were sentenced to serve one year in the county jail for carrying concealed weapons.

The police had been informed, it is said, by Bernard Fitzgerald, 37 Washington street, Haverhill, who claimed to have knowledge of the trial, that they had schemed to rob Orrin Clark, who lives with his wife in a lonely spot near Derry, N. H., and who the young men believed kept a large amount of money at his home.

At the time designated for the descent of the men on the home of Clark a squad of policemen lay in ambush about the place. When the suspected robbers approached the house the police pounced upon them and placed them under arrest.

Lawyer William D. Regan has filed a motion to set aside the verdict in the case of Dwyer vs. Ray State Street Railway Co. returned by the jury last Friday afternoon. The jury rendered a verdict for the plaintiff, assessing damages to the sum of $20.

FIVE MINUTE CURE

IF STOMACH IS BAD

"Pape's Diapiesin" is Quickest, Surest Indigestion Cure Known.

You don't want a slow remedy when your stomach is bad or your digestion is too valuable; you mustn't injure it with drastic drugs.

Pape's Diapiesin is noted for its speed in giving relief; its harmlessness; its certain unfailing action in regulating sick, sour, gassy stomachs; its millions of cures in indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis and other stomach troubles has made it famous the world over.

Keep this perfect stomach doctor in your home—keep it handy—get a large fifty-cent case from any drug store and then if anyone should eat something which doesn't agree with them; if what they eat lays like lead, ferments and sours and forms gas; causes headache, dizziness and nausea; eruptions of acid and undigested food—remember as soon as Pape's Diapiesin comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. Its promptness, certainty and ease in overcoming the worst stomach disorders is a revelation to those who try it.

MOTHER! THE CHILD IS COSTIVE, BILIOUS

If Tongue is Coated, Breath Bad, Stomach Sour, Don't Hesitate!

Give "California Syrup of Figs" at once—a teaspoonful today often saves a sick child tomorrow.

If your little one is out-of-sorts, half-sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad, or has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs" and in a few hours all the constipated poisons, undigested food and sour bile gently move out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs"; then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Don't be fooled!

EPIDEMIC OF GLANDERS

SPREADING IN THIS STATE—WATERING TROUGHS CLOSED—MANY HORSES EFFECTED

BOSTON, Nov. 18.—The epidemic of glanders which is spreading in this state, causing the watering troughs to be shut off, reached Malden yesterday, when several cases were found in the city.

Investigations, conducted by Inspector of Animals Dr. Simpson, revealed that the water of almost every watering trough in the city is polluted with glanders bacteria.

Every preparation is being made to combat the dreaded disease, which is infectious among human beings as well as horses. Three horses have already been killed because of the disease, which it is believed has spread to many other horses.

The board of health has been asked to aid in stopping the disease from getting a foothold in the city, and all the watering troughs will be shut off within a day or two. Dr. Simpson has asked horse dealers not to water their horses from troughs, but use buckets. This is the only way to stop the ravages of the disease, as no medical means has been found which can save the life of an animal infected.

33 AND STILL A COP

BOSTON, Nov. 18.—Oliver Houghton, police officer and formerly chief of police of Weymouth, yesterday observed his 33rd birthday. He is said to be the oldest police officer in the country.

Yesterday many military and police officials as well as friends in private life gathered to extend their congratulations. He enjoys good health and expects to be a police officer on his 100th anniversary.

MOTHER TALKS

Says Walker Treated Wife "As a Gentleman Should"

NEWPORT, R. I., Nov. 18.—A handsome woman, dressed entirely in black, and with beautiful white hair, stepped forward and took her seat in the witness chair in the superior court yesterday afternoon.

She was Rebecca White Walker, widow of Rear Admiral John Walker, and mother of Commander James W. G. Walker, in whose favor she testified in the suit for divorce against him by Mrs. Walker.

Mrs. Walker said that her son had always treated his wife "As a gentleman should," being always considerate of her.

The financial difficulties were told of by Mrs. Walker, who said she had helped her son and his wife for many years by gifts of money, and had furnished their home for them when they first began married life.

The most interesting part of her story was with reference to a talk which she and her daughter-in-law had just previous to the birth of the youngest Walker child.

Young Mrs. Walker was averse to having more children and complained to the elder woman of the great burden that children were, and said she was tired of caring for children. She got much excited, according to the witness, and said that rather than have more children she would leave her husband.

Mrs. Walker, Sr. had a long talk and a stormy one with her daughter-in-law relative to this, and begged her not to leave her husband. "I quoted the marriage service to my daughter-in-law," said the older woman, "and tried to make her see what a terrible thing it was that she was contemplating, but she persisted in her determination."

GROUND WORK OF INVESTIGATION BY INTERSTATE COMMISSION INTO RATES LAID—H. R. MEN HEARD

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 18.—The ground work of the investigation of the interstate commerce commission into the anthracite coal roads to determine whether their rates are reasonable and whether they are observing the interstate commerce laws was laid yesterday with the calling of witnesses before Commissioner John H. Marble to testify as to the facilities of the roads for handling coal.

It was the object of the commission's attorneys to learn how these facilities compared with those for the transportation of other commodities, the labor costs involved and the methods of operation with a view to their

TO CLEAN, OR NOT TO CLEAN

That is the question. Whether it is better to use unadorned ideas or modern cleaning machinery in the renovating of garments, has been tested fully in this establishment. We do not infer that we, of late years, have employed state methods. We haven't, but being the oldest established cleaning and dyeing house here, naturally there was a time when we had to use the "hand."

But now, what a change! A modernized plant, equal to any emergency. Such is progress!

BUREAU OF COMMERCE

To most people there is a vagueness about the names of the great government departments which, while it implies wide endeavor in a general way, leaves them totally unacquainted with the work being done. This is as true of the department of commerce as any other but an address recently made by Secretary Redfield of this department touches on the aims of the government with regard to it and gives a very comprehensive condensation of the scope of the undertaking as outlined, and the ends to be accomplished.

In opening, Mr. Redfield spoke in some detail of the organization of the department of commerce with its nine bureaus comprising the lighthouse service, the coast survey, the census, the bureau of corporations, the bureau of standards, the bureau of navigation, the steamboat inspection service, the bureau of fisheries and the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce. The secretary declared in another recent address that the scope of the department includes the heavens above, the earth below and the waters beneath, and the above list of activities verifies the assertion. His department employs over $600 men, of whom 1500 are in Washington, and the balance scattered all over the world from the Philippines and Hawaii to Alaska and the great ports of the world where its commercial agents are stationed.

As an example of the minor but important things being constantly attended to in the department of commerce, Secretary Redfield mentioned the following: A specialist on cotton manufacture has just been sent to Japan and China; an expert on coke by-products is investigating such matters in Europe; a special monograph on special opportunities in South America is in course of preparation, and within a short time a student of banking and credit conditions will be sent to the capitals of Latin America to make a special investigation of this subject.

One of the great objects of the bureau of commerce is the promoting of export trade and the report of the secretary in this respect was very encouraging. American exports have gradually increased in volume until as Mr. Redfield said, "the tide of American business in the foreign field is at the flood." Nevertheless the administration feels that the possibilities for improvement are great and elaborate plans are now being made to increase the volume of export business enormously. Previously a great deal of educational work fell upon the American consuls but they had so many other things to attend to that they were not always able to give the bureau of commerce their best efforts. A new organization, therefore, has been planned by which the commercial interests of America will be attended to by a body of experts called "commercial attaches" who will be placed in all the principal capitals of the world. Already plans have been made for their reception in 14 of the most important cities in Australia, Asia, South America, and the capitals of Europe. Though these things sound far reaching in their scope, they are but a few of the innovations proposed by the secretary. Yet they are sufficient to prove that in the department of commerce as in the other government departments we are to have a prosperous and business-like administration.

THE COST OF LIVING

There is no difference of opinion about the fact that the cost of living has gradually increased of late years, and there is no unanimity of opinion about the causes for the increase. It is the problem of problems at present and so elastic in treatment that opposing political parties have no difficulties in appropriating it for campaign platforms and treating it from widely differing angles. One of the latest official recognitions of it was when the committee arbitrating the differences between the eastern railroads and their employees granted a wage increase proportionate to the same "cost of living."

This arrangement seemed quite reasonable and just, but there is a view of the question not usually seen by the ordinary citizen and the current issue of the "Railway Age Gazette" uncovers it. It explains that wages cannot be increased in any industry unless there is an equivalent increase in the efficiency of labor, without affecting the cost of operation and production in that industry, for in every industry the wages of labor are the principal factor in operating expenses, and in the transportation industry in particular the wages are by far the most important factor. Therefore, in the words of the railroad journal:

"If the cost of operation and production in an industry is increased to any considerable extent, then the rates or prices charged for the services rendered or the goods sold by that industry must also be increased. But an increase in the charges for services and the prices of goods is, of course, an increase in the cost of living, and consequently justifies another increase in wages, which in turn causes another increase in the cost of living, which will

JUSTIFY ANOTHER INCREASE IN WAGES; AND SO ON AD INFINITUM.

Thus for the railroads have been compelled to raise the wages of their employees while being obliged to keep their rates from soaring. They have been petitioning for permission to increase the rates, but as yet vainly. The railroads, it appears, are beginning to suffer from the increase in the cost of living. They are required to raise wages of their unionized men, they say, without getting any return in better work done, and at the same time they are confronted by demands from the public for an improved grade of transportation. This is the railroad's side of the case; but there is another side in which the masses are imposed upon by middlemen and the beneficiaries of special privilege to such an extent that they must get higher wages in order to live. It is expected the new tariff law will reduce the cost of living along some lines and thus afford some relief.

SOUVENIR HUNTERS

At a recent convention of hotel proprietors in Providence the question of less from petty thefts of souvenir hunters was introduced, and the evidence given showed that the loss to hotels from this source is very great. In one hotel in Boston, 60 new spoons which had been purchased for use on that day were taken during the festivities of Halloween eve. It was understood by the hotel men as it is by the general public that these losses are not due to malice or a desire to steal, but the sufferers are not liable to be cheered very much by this consoling reflection when they are obliged to pay out of their pockets for the souvenir habit of hotel patrons. There is good reason to believe that the proprietors of such places have possible losses from this source in mind when they make up their price lists, but this is still another reason why souvenir hunting should be discouraged. Many good people do not hesitate to take silver, glassware or china from a hotel, but they would resent very strongly being accused of stealing. Yet souvenir hunting is stealing under a prettier name.

AWAITING THE RESULT

The campaign for nominations for the various municipal offices which are to be filled in the near future will be brought to a close this evening when the polls close, and whatever the result will be from the political or civic standpoint, it cannot but bring some measure of relief to the public, for we have passed through a time of perplexity and confusion that is not beneficial to the city or its people. We will not have long to wait for a demonstration of its effect upon the voters, but undoubtedly many were confused by the opposing elements of a campaign of very unusual features. From now on until the elections that will still further sift the candidates nominated today, the issues will be clearer and the people will have a more definite conception of what is really needed in aspirants to political office. All our citizens may not agree as to the qualifications of any candidate previous to nominations or elections, but all agree that Lowell needs the best in public service, and unite in hoping that the choice of the majority will secure it.

BLACK FOX FARMING

The possibilities of black fox farming of which we hear so much recently sound like a page out of the Arabian Nights, and yet there is ample testimony to show that in Prince Edward Island simple farmers have become fabulously wealthy by domesticating the highly-prized silver black fox and selling pelts to the fur markets. One small consignment sent recently to London netted the consignee over $40,000. This does not seem enormous when we read that a single skin sold for a sum close on $3,000. The black fox industry started in the provinces, but it has now spread into many parts of Canada. Probably some enterprising and wealthy Americans will see to it in the near future that this country will adopt an industry from which the financial returns are so great.

END OF THE CAMPAIGN

The results of today's primaries will show whether the street corner rallies have influenced the votes of any large number of voters. There have been two methods of reaching the people and presenting the issues for their approval, one is by speaking to them directly at public rallies; the other by appealing to them through the press. Both methods have been freely used by a number of the candidates while others have conducted their campaign mainly through the newspapers and still others by distributing personal cards and soliciting votes. It has been undoubtedly one of the hottest campaigns ever waged in this city and the interest in the result is very general.

Seen and Heard

A story Harry Lauder told was about an old Scotch gamekeeper, who was being questioned by a rather inquisitive visitor who paid occasional visits to the neighborhood, and wanted to know all about the size and value of the estate.

"Are there many deer on the place?" was one of his questions.

"Hundreds, sir," was the gamekeeper's reply.

"Many hares?" the other went on.

"Thousands, sir," the gamekeeper answered.

"Is that so? Well, now, are there many gillies?" the visitor asked sarcastically.

The gamekeeper hesitated for a moment, then he said:

"Well, sir, they come now and then—just like yerself!"

A Washington woman has in her employ as a butler a colored man of a pompous and established mien, who not long ago permitted a dandy, long his ardent admirer, to become his spouse.

One day when the mistress of the house had occasion to temporarily avail herself of the services of the butler's wife, it was observed that whenever the duties of the two brought them in conjunction the bride's eyes would shine with extraordinary devotion.

"Your wife seems wonderfully attached to you, Thomas," casually observed the mistress of the house.

"Yes, ma'am," answered Thomas, complacently. "Ain't it just sickening!"

Pickwick's discovery of a stone bearing an inscription of uncertain meaning is recalled by a story which is going the rounds in Europe of a well-known Parisian antiquary, who, while on his holidays in Normandy, came across an old farm which had a curiously carved in the form of an armorial bearing over one of the main doors. Beneath the carving was a wooden bar inscribed with a date. Examining it he found the latter to be 1081. All his antiquarian passions were aroused, needless to say, and after some bargaining for quite a nice sum, the antiquary the farmer brought the trouvaille to the antiquary's villa. "This isn't what I bought," exclaimed the purchaser. "It bears the date of 1081. I don't want it." "Excuse me, sir," replied the farmer. "It's the same, right enough. But the farmer who recently repaired it replaced the bar upside down, and I thought I ought to put it right for you." The antiquary was sport enough not to go back on his bargain, but the date of the case did not seem to speak highly for his antiquarian knowledge.

BE A GOOD BOY; GOOD-BYE

How often in my dreams I go back to the day
When I stood at our old wooden gate,
And started to school in full battle array.
Well armed with a primer and slate,
And as the latch fell I thought myself free.
And gloried, I fear, on the sly,
Till I heard a kind voice that whispered to me:
"Be a good boy; good-bye."
"Be a good boy; good-bye." It seems
They have followed me all these years.
They have given a form to my youthful dreams
And scattered my foolish fears.
They have stayed my feet on many a brink,
Unseen by a blinded eye;
For just in time I would pause and think:
"Be a good boy; good-bye."

EDITORIAL COMMENT

RETAIL CREDITS
Boston Herald: President Wilson has declared himself emphatically in favor of a "complete and adequate system of retail credits," but there is much diversity of opinion what this system should be. A commission recently returned from a study of European methods calls attention to the fact that banks, which loan money to the small farmers at 4 1/2 per cent, for long periods. The shares in these banks are largely owned by the farmers themselves. In Germany there is every incentive for the farmer to make permanent improvement upon his land. The fear of losing his property by being financially "squeezed out" is lacking.

COST OF WAR

Lowell Sun: It has been estimated that the conquest of Mexico would cost a thousand millions. So large a waste coming directly after the wars in the Balkans, would make harder than ever the borrowing of money for the multitude of enterprises that are now asking in vain.

TRIEES

Lynn Item: There are streets in Lynn which years ago were adorned with shade trees, but which are now entirely bare of such adornment. Those streets where the shade trees that have escaped the mutilations of the building speculator, the electric line crew or other selfish interests are regarded as our most beautiful thoroughfares and most desirable places of residence.

A GREAT BLEEPER

Fall River Globe: Huerta is quoted as saying that were the United States to make an armed invasion of Mexico he would be able to muster a force of 500,000 men to wipe the Yankees off the map. Big and brave talk from the head of a government which is unable to raise a sufficient army to maintain his authority over much more than a third of the country and keep the unruly natives in the other two-thirds from cutting up shoes in defiance and contempt of him. Whatever else may be said of Huerta, it must be admitted that he is a great bluffer, but he will be called out by these days. He is certain to overplay his hand.

CURRENCY BILL

Newport News: At last the administration currency bill, as it will probably go to the senate with the approval of President Wilson, has been completed by six democratic members of the committee. The other democratic member, Senator Hitchcock, and five republicans will present a different measure. So it will be a contest of a bill with a majority back of it, but one will have the administration support, and it is hoped to secure its passage.

OUR WEATHER

HUB CITY CLUB

New Home Will be Ready for Occupancy Next Fall

BOSTON, Nov. 18.—The announcement that the new home of the Boston City Club at Somerset street and Ashburton place is expected to be ready for occupancy early in the fall of 1914 was made at the annual meeting of the club last night.

The annual report of the executive committee stated that the City Club has established reciprocal relations with 11 clubs in other cities. The house committee reported a substantial improvement in finances during the past two months. It also reported that the club showed a profit of over $1000 greater than last year.

The membership committee reported a membership of 480 and a waiting list of 750. The membership at the end of 1912 was 326. The entertainment committee reported that more entertainments had been given during the past year than in any previous year, and the art and library committees reported 2400 volumes and 250 pictures now owned by the club. All the reports were accepted.

The balloting which preceded the business session resulted in the election of the following members of the new board of governors: Horace Bacon, Charles L. Merrill, George W. Coleman, James E. Rice, R. H. Gardner, Jr., Louis E. Feinstein, James P. Munroe, and Charles M. Rogers. The following nominating committee was elected: J. Arthur Fawcett, George R. Regan, Herbert F. Perkins, John R. Simpson, Frank V. Thompson, Frank L. Locke and George S. Smith.

SAYS HUSBAND ELOPED

Wife of Missing Man Shows Letters Written by Woman Signing Herself "Your Loving Wife"

FAIMOUTH, Nov. 18.—Because of evidence which he claims tends to show that J. H. Swain, superintendent of schools here, left town voluntarily and has not met with foul play or accident, Sheriff Herbert Lawrence last night withdrew his posse of 300 persons from the woods and swamps bordering this town.

Swain disappeared Saturday morning after starting on what he said would be a hunting trip.

Letter From a "Widow"

Mrs. Swain, his wife, last night said that she gave no credence to the report that her husband was lost. She told Sheriff Lawrence that her husband had threatened to commit suicide before Christmas. Mrs. Swain said she believed her husband had voluntarily departed, because of reasons which have become town gossip. She said that she had evidence to prove that there is more than a mere coincidence in the recent departure of a widow here and the subsequent disappearance of Swain.

The deserted wife last night showed a reporter letters which she says were found among her husband's possessions, written by a person signing "your loving wife," and begging Swain to join her. The letter was addressed to "My Dear Husband."

Mrs. Swain named a woman whom she charged with writing the letters which she found. She recently accused her husband of infidelity, she said, and she claims he confessed.

"I have been a good wife to him," said Mrs. Swain last night, "and gave him every chance to straighten things out. This woman was a widow and 37 years old. So he couldn't have chosen her because he sought youth.

"He told me that it had come time for a showdown. He said that he would commit suicide before Christmas. Then I found this letter."

"Saturday morning before he went away he kissed baby Jack goodby, then he kissed me, something he had not done for a very long time; then he said 'Goodby,' and I knew that he meant it. His voice broke and he went out. He wore his business suit."

"A few days ago he had $100. I do not know where he got it. There wasn't enough money left in the bank. I had just paid $100 to the garage man and I know that he didn't draw it from the bank."

"I am heartbroken. I always loved him and still do. I do not excuse his actions, but neither can I excuse that woman. She should have known better. I am sorry for my little boy, who doesn't know what is going on, but will later."

"I am confident that my husband is not dead, despite his suicide threats. I am afraid for myself. I want to tell the truth, but I am afraid that if I say too much I may come to harm. I know that in his right mind my husband would not harm me; but I am in trouble. I want to be honest and frank. I have nothing to conceal. I am sorry for my husband."

Utica, Ohio.—"I suffered everything from a female weakness after baby came. I had numb spells and was dizzy, had black spots before my eyes, my back ached and I was so weak I could hardly stand up. My face was yellow, even my fingernails were colorless and I had displacement. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and now I am stout, well and healthy. I can do all my own work and can walk to town and back and not get tired. I would not give my Vegetable Compound for all the rest of the medicines in the world. I read so many letters about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound curing female troubles that I got a bottle of it. It did me more good than anything else I ever took and now it has cured me. I feel better than I have for years and tell everybody what the Compound has done for me. I believe I would not be living to-day but for that."—Mrs. HETTIE GREENSTREET, Nebo, Illinois.

WM. E. LIVINGSTON CO.

Tel. 1550. 15 Thorndike St. Est. 1828

inner trade route along the coast was emphasized and recent destructions of coastal storms were pointed out as an argument.

The convention is the sixth that the association has held. Delegates are in attendance from all the states along the eastern coast of the United States, all of them pointing out the economic need for the inland water route. Immediately after the invocation by the Rev. William A. Hulston the delegates were welcomed to the city by Mayor Van C. Swearingen and to the state by Gov. Park Trammell. Responses by Gov. Charles R. Miller of Delaware and Lieut.-Gov. Frank E. Howe of Vermont, were on the program.

Sessions covering four days are expected to bring many speakers to show the urgent need for an immediate appropriation to complete the work already undertaken both by the federal government and the several states. As a revenue producing and trade carrying project the Atlantic inland waterway was contrasted with many of the western river projects to the disadvantage of the latter.

Representative J. Hampton Moore of Pennsylvania, president of the association, presided and read his annual report. He declared the area to be aided by the improved water transportation facilities contained 46 per cent. of the entire population of the United States and 59 per cent. of all the wage earners.

Collected Customs Revenue
President Moore pointed to the fact that the four ports, to be touched by the proposed waterway, collected four-fifths of the customs revenue and that through them passed most of the import and export business of the country. This small territory, comprising the original 13 states, and which, he said, was barely more than a thumb-mark on the map of the United States, produced 53 per cent. of all the manufactures and 60 per cent. of all the coal in the country.

These facts, he pointed out, should be taken into consideration by congress in making the next appropriation for river and harbor improvements. He declared that the Atlantic seaboard was more worthy of consideration by congress than all the other parts of the United States combined.

As tending to show how the lack of adequate transportation increased the cost of living in the eastern states, President Moore said:

"The problem confronting the owners of neglected eastern lands is chiefly the problem of transportation. It is the problem of the producer to get to market, a problem resulting from the concentration of population and business activity along the lines of the railroad, while vast stretches of country have suffered abandonment because the waterways that have formerly served them well, were not kept up to modern standards."

President Moore declared railways in the eastern part of the country, from the congested conditions of such, he said, that it was a common occurrence for a car of freight to require more than a week to travel less than fifty miles.

Railroads Need Relief

"If it takes five days to ship freight from Philadelphia to Chester, a distance of 12 miles, or 6 days to Trenton, 34 miles, or 13 days to New York, 50 miles, as was recently demonstrated, it is evident that the railroads need relief. It takes an hour and a half only to ship from Philadelphia to Chester by water, 4 hours to Trenton, and overnight to New York."

The early completion of the Panama canal and the consequent shorter distance between the Atlantic and Pacific coasts also was used effectively today as an argument for the improvement of the Atlantic coast waterway, together with the project of a similar nature from Florida to Galveston along the Gulf of Mexico.

It was declared that the smaller coastwise craft, could with greater safety use the inland waterway along the east and south coasts to reach the canal than to take the more hazardous journey on the high seas.

Frequent devastating storms along the eastern coast of the United States also were pointed to as arguments for the improved waterway. Statistics were quoted to show the tremendous loss of life and property, the greater portion of which, the various speakers declared, could be saved were a safer passage for small vessels provided.

"The record is too strong for even

PINKLETS

A Laxative That Does Not Grip

This new laxative positively will not grip. It produces not a single distressing symptom, yet its action is certain and thorough.

Pinklets are just the laxative you need to arouse the lazy, sluggish bowels and torpid liver. Don't keep on using harsh, strong purgatives for they always upset the stomach and leave the bowels irritated and in a worse condition than before. Rely on the gentle Pinklets to assist the bowels to get in proper working order and be free from constipation.

These little pills are a corrective for bad breath, will clear the complexion and are recommended for torpid liver, biliousness, headaches and constipation. Any druggist can supply you with Pinklets, 25 cents per bottle. Get a bottle and try them tonight.

the sophisticated "counteract," declared President Moore in his address. "Let me repeat it again—the toll of the sea along the Atlantic coast to the ten years from 1900 to 1910 was 2200 lives. The disasters numbered 5709, involving a property loss in excess of $40,000,000. That loss with a few paltry millions added would have been sufficient to link up Jacksonville with Cape Cod, in accordance with the recommendations of the army engineers."

The Panama Canal

"There is another phase of this question to which I shall briefly refer, contrasting the value of Panama canal and Atlantic coast waterway projects. We are approaching the completion of the Panama canal, the greatest of modern waterways and a glorious proof of American skill in engineering."

The estimated cost of the canal is $400,000,000. The benefits of our enterprise in this tremendous undertaking will accrue largely to Great Britain and Germany, who are our principal international competitors for South American trade.

We have made our vast expenditure on the isthmus without a corresponding decrease in the supply of funds available for river and harbor improvements at home, (to this extent have we yielded our necessities to our patrons) nor were these funds removed from home centers of circulation without reducing the home supply of ready cash. This has added to the increase in the cost of living.

"If we had spent $400,000,000 improving the rivers and harbors of the United States we would have secured many of the improvements of which we now stand in need, and we would ourselves have derived the benefit of our enormously increased circulation of capital, with its inevitable employment of labor at a profitable wage; but since we have constructed the Panama canal and are proud of it, it is fair to assume that we shall now be able to obtain greater attention for our home necessities and that in all reasonableness, we shall soon be able to increase our appropriations for important projects within the borders of the United States."

Closing his address President Moore urged the delegates to lose no opportunity to advance the improvement of the Atlantic coast project.

MANUFACTURERS' LEAGUE

BOWLING TEAMS IN SHOPS AND FACTORIES PLAN ON NEW ORGANIZATION THIS WINTER

According to Charles H. Farrell of the Tremont & Suffolk team, the following teams have voiced their willingness to join the Manufacturers' Bowling League: Tremont & Suffolk, Merrimack, Heinze Electric, Appletons, Derby & Morse, and Waterhead Mills. Four more teams are requested to enter, such teams as the M. C. M's, Saco-Lowell Machine Shop, Lawrence Mfg., Martin Bros., Barry Shoes or other strong teams. It is the earnest wish of Mr. Farrell to start the league by November 22.

The captains of mill or shoe shop teams are requested to talk it up and join the league within the next week, as it is getting well into the bowling season now, and if a league is not started within the next two weeks matters will be dropped. Such teams as the Bigelow Carpet Co., which has entered as a good team always represents the Carpet. The M. C. R. team is hitting a good pace and should be entered. Martin Bros. have a fast team also the Saco-Lowell shops are well represented. The Heinze Electric is another plant possessing a fast team, also the Lawrence Mfg., Merrimack, Appleton and Root mills.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The recently elected officers of Protection lodge, A. O. U. W., installed at a meeting held in Odd Fellows hall last night. The work was in charge of Deputy Young of Haverhill and he was assisted by members of Rolfe lodge of Lawrence and Haverhill lodge of Haverhill. After the meeting the members journeyed to the Hamilton club where a supper was served.

Highland Hebekehs

Highland hall was last night the scene of a successful meeting of Union Rebekah lodge, No. 31. A grist of routine business was transacted and a social hour was enjoyed. The following entertainment was given: Piano solo, Marion Hoyer; Spanish dance, Mildred Reed; guitar, Gust. Messers, Rolfe and Exley; reading, Marion Downs; skirt dance, Mildred Reed.

Lydia Daziah Chapter
The regular meeting of the Lydia Daziah chapter, D. A. R., was held Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. Allen, 22 South St. for street with a large number of members present. After the meeting refreshments were served and a social afternoon enjoyed.

Sons of St. George

The members of Waverly lodge have recently nominated the following officers: President, Arthur E. Pascoe; vice president, Harold J. Hunsell; secretary, Fred Potter; treasurer, Albert Stophard; messenger, Charles Crumble; assistant secretary, John Barker; trustee, John Orrell; pianist, J. Joseph Higginbottom. These officers will be elected at the meeting on Nov. 27 without opposition.

ASSIST FOREST OWNERS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—In addition to the administration of its waste lands for forest purposes, the individual state should play a part in cooperating with private timberland owners, commensurate with the interest which the state has in maintaining its timber supply.

This principle is enunciated by the committee on state forestry at the national conservation congress here. The committee further recommends as general principles for the practice of state forestry everywhere that the governing board should be removed from partisan political control, and that the state forester should be fitted for his work by professional training and experience.

Civil service should govern in the selection of all forest officers, and all industries directly dependent on the forest should be represented on the state forestry board. Further, the committee says, the forest officer should have ample discretionary power, and should be delegated enough authority to settle controversies as they arise.

After an organization is formed, it should be provided with machinery which will make its work effective, such as ample funds, a public forest, prompt and effective measures against forest vandalism, and a strong police power. Without including all these things, the committee says, state legislation will fall of its own weight and largely be a dead letter.

TOO OLD TO WED

Seventy Year Old Man is Sued for Breach of Promise

BOSTON, Nov. 18.—At the age of 70 years Andrew S. MacLachlan, a carpenter and house owner, boarding at 44 Bigelow street, Brighton, has been sued for breach of promise. The plaintiff, Mrs. Mary E. Bird of Boston, says she has taken this step in vindication because, after a three-year courtship, during which they built a house and announced the approaching wedding, Mr. MacLachlan suddenly decided he was too old to marry.

She says they visited the new home in Roslindale together every Sunday, divided the vegetables raised there this summer and that they built a fireplace in the bungalow designed by them in common where they were to pop corn together during the winter months.

Mrs. Bird is a widow with seven children living quietly in the Back Bay district and is about 46 years of age. She said last night: "I have worked hard and deprived myself in many ways in the last few years looking forward to the time when I should be married and have a home of my own. Mr. MacLachlan looks and appears much younger than he claims to be and I had thought him not more than 65 or 60."

"He has given me no good reason for his sudden determination not to marry other than that he felt himself too old. We have visited the new house continually and planned for the future. All of my folks knew of the approaching marriage and it has been a terrible shock and disappointment. I have therefore accepted the advice of my friends, obtained counsel and entered suit."

Mr. MacLachlan last night admitted that he knew Mrs. Bird was but said he had not been apprised of any suit against him.

The attachment was filed against him at Pemberton square yesterday afternoon, for $10,000, through the law office of Warren, Durt & Palmer, acting for Mrs. Bird.

HURLED OFF FIRE TRUCK

BOSTON, Nov. 18.—While responding to an alarm for a fire in the basement of the Church of the Most Precious Blood, Hyde Park, last night, Edward N. Bullard, driver of Ladder Truck 28 was thrown from his seat and seriously injured when an automobile owned and operated by Jesse Tobey of 28 Lindsey street, Dorchester, collided with the truck near the junction of River and Maple streets, Hyde Park.

Bullard sustained a scalp wound, sprained right shoulder and severely wrenched back.

The horses attached to the ladder truck continued on their dash. George E. Ide of Winthrop street, a ladderman, who was on the rear of the truck when the accident occurred, climbed along the running board to the driver's seat and secured control of the horses before they reached the top of the hill.

The fire was in the basement of the Church of the Most Precious Blood, at Maple and Clark streets, and was due to spontaneous combustion in a closet where were temporarily housed oil cans and paint used by the painters employed to decorate the upper part of the church. The damage was slight.

TWO SWEEP OVERBOARD

ONE MAN DROWNED AND ANOTHER NARROWLY ESCAPED WHEN SCHOONER WAS CAUGHT IN GALE

BOSTON, Nov. 18.—A thrilling tale of a drowning and rescue at sea was told yesterday afternoon by the crew of the schooner Francis V. Sawyer, Captain John Duffy, which anchored off the East Boston flats, yesterday morning after an exciting trip from Charleston, S. C.

In a squall which overtook the schooner about 40 miles east of Charleston on Nov. 8, John Johnson was bowled overboard by the sudden jolting of the foresail boom and drowned. Antonio Aalta was washed overboard, but saved. Johnson had been sent out on the fore boom to tend tackle. Captain Duffy heard a cry and put the wheel hard down in a desperate effort to make an attempt to rescue Johnson, who was seen to disappear overboard.

In coming about so suddenly in the gale, the schooner's fore house was smashed in, and her hatches broken down. When the waves washed over the deck, Aalta was swept overboard. He was so tangled up in the main sheets, however, he was hauled back to safety without much difficulty.

The Francis V. Sawyer brought a big load of lumber for a local dealer, Johnson, who was lost, was signed as from Berlin, N. H.
